Submitted to Government on the 1st May 1854.

NARRATIVE OF BRITISH RELATIONS

WITH THE

NATIVE STATES WITHIN THE SPHERE OF THE PAHLUNPOOR POLITICAL SUPERINTENDENCY, TOGETHER WITH A HISTORY OF THE REIGNING FAMILIES, &c., AS THE SAME STOOD AT THE CLOSE OF THE YEAR 1853.

Pahlunpoor are eleven in number, as noted in the margin. Four of these are under Mussulman Chiefs, five are enjoyed by Rajpoot Chieftains, and the remaining two by Koolee Thakurdas (originally of Rajpoot origin, but who have deteriorated in caste from intermarriages with Koolee women). The anarchy and confusion which prevailed in the Pahlunpoor territory, led to the formation of the present Agency in A. D. 1817. Captain Miles was then appointed Political Agent, and in 1819 the ten other States were placed under his control.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARY.

The Pahlunpoor districts are situated on the north-west portion of Guzerat. They are bounded on the north by Marwar and Sirohee; east by part of Sirohee and Danta (a Talooka subordinate to the Mahee Kanta Agency); south by the Gaekwar districts of Puttun, and by Jhoonjoowara, subordinate to the Katteewar Agency; and west by the Runn, which divides Kutch from Guzerat. Its greatest length is about 100 miles, by the same in breadth, having an area of about 6,041 square miles, containing 934 villages, with a population amounting to about 3,21,645, of which 37,917 are Mussulman, and the remainder Hindoo.

GENERAL FEATURES.

In the neighbourhood of Pahlunpoor and to the eastward, the country is undulating and well wooded; to the north, and north-east where it borders on Sirohee, it is extremely difficult, being covered with hills and ranges of hills, some of great height and size, from which are procured a great deal of timber for building purposes; towards Marwar, and west to the Runn and southward to Jhoonjoowara, and thence circling round to the eastward, the whole space contained within this area is one vast level plain, but slightly wooded. Towards the north and south, where it borders on Marwar and Jhoonjoowara, there is scarcely a tree to be seen, and along the whole western border nothing but a salt marsh meets the eye.

SOIL.

There are three sorts—sandy, black, and saline. The first produces generally only one crop per annum, but in the rich black soil three crops can be produced during that period. For the former light showers are sufficient, but heavy rain is required for the latter: the third, or saline soil, is useless. The wells vary in depth from 20 to 150 feet; towards the Runn, water is both scarce and brackish, and a scanty monsoon (independent of other considerations) is a cause of much anxiety to the inhabitants of this part of the country, as the wells, from the drying up of the springs, yield a very inadequate supply for the wants of the inhabitants, who are generally compelled to send away their cattle to more favourable situations.

PRODUCE.

During the monsoon, Bajree, Juwarree, Mug, Mutt, Arud, Chola, Theel, Goowar, Toer, Buntée, Koree, Jhallur, all different sorts of grain, and rice (but only in the Pahlunpoor districts) are produced. In the Radhunpoor and Warye districts a good deal of cotton is grown, and exported viâ Dhollera to Bombay.

Sugar-cane is also cultivated in the Pahlunpoor districts, but not to any great extent, and its cultivation depends on the heaviness of the monsoon.

In the hot weather, Wheat, Sursao (oil), Methee, Jeera, Ajmo, Mustard, and Gram are produced from irrigation.

The jungles north and north-east afford excellent grazing ground for cattle. Great quantities of grain, beyond the wants of the inhabitants, are produced, and are yearly imported into Marwar and Sirohee, for the use of those countries.

RIVERS.

The two principal rivers are the Bunnass and the Surruswutti, both take their rise in the hills north-east, and, running in a westerly direction, lose themselves in the Runn. On entering the Radhunpoor districts, owing to the large quantity of salt with which the soil is impregnated, the water, during the hot weather, is unfit for drinking or other purposes, and is only tolerable during the rains, when the heavy freshes from the hills overpower the saline matter.

There are various small streams in the Pahlunpoor districts, which add much to the fertility of the country through which they flow; but water is generally scarce, and within the last few years, from the drying up of the springs, or from other causes, water can only be procured at double the depth it used formerly to be obtained.

CLIMATE.

The year may be divided into four seasons—hot, rainy, hot, and cold: the first, March, April, May, and June; the second, July and August; the third, September, October, and part of November; the fourth, part of November, December, January, and February. The heat in the hot weather, even in the Pahlunpoor districts, is great; but towards Marwar and the Runn, including all the southern portion of it, it is intense, accompanied with violent hot winds; so much so, as to deter the natives of the country from travelling during the day-time, the thermometer rising from 90° to 120°. The rains are slight, and particularly so towards the Runn. The third season, September, October, and including November, is very unhealthy for both Europeans and Natives: fevers of a very bad type are very common. The fourth season is pleasant, and towards the Runn the cold is very great, agreeing well with the European constitution: the cold, however, does not last long, and there is scarcely a month during the year when the heat is not occasionally oppressive.

ROADS.

Beyond the usual village roads, there is not a single made road in the country. Merchants from Hindoostan coming viâ Pallee to Dholera, generally pass through Pahlunpoor; those proceeding to Kutch, &c., through Thurad or Wao. The roads in the Pahlunpoor districts are very heavy and sandy, and carts heavily laden require six and eight bullocks to drag them on. In the Thurad districts the ground is harder, and the roads in consequence better. Owing to the heavy sandy soil, and absence of proper materials to form a road, none of the Chiefs under this Superintendency could bear the expense of making one through their districts. Merchandise is generally carried on carts or camels, which latter feel no inconvenience from the sand.

REVENUE AND TRIBUTE.

The gross amount of the revenue of the States composing this Superintendency is about Rs. 6,40,900 per annum. The Pahlunpoor and Kankruj are tributary to His Highness the Gaekwar, and the former pays Babasae Rs. 50,000, equal to Company's Rs. 45,512-8-0, the latter Babasae Rs. 6,006-10-0, equal to Company's Rs. 5,592-15-4; the other districts are entirely independent and pay no tribute.

NATIVE FORCE.

The two principal States, Pahlunpoor and Radhunpoor, keep up a small force of horse and foot, which are generally scattered about in the villages for their protection, a few being retained by the Chief to attend as personal escorts. At a slight expense, however, every Chief could collect a body of Koolees, &c., variously armed with swords and arrows and matchlocks. All the Puttawuts and Bhayad of the Chiefs are bound, by the terms on which they hold their Jageers, to perform military service when called on, receiving from the Chief a daily subsistence for their followers. 2,000 horse and 20,000 footmen, with 174 guns, might be collected.

POLICE.

There is no police in the country ; but in every village there is a certain class of men who enjoy free a portion of land on condition of their performing the duties of Puggée or village watchmen. In accordance with the ancient customs of the country, every village must be answerable for excesses committed within its limits. If the footmarks of robbers can be traced out and made over to another village, the responsibility is shifted over to that village, and so on, until the trail stops, when the last village becomes responsible for the robbery. It occasionally occurs that a village may be unjustly called on to afford restitution in consequence of being unable to carry on the tracks; but in such cases the villagers seldom fail in the end to discover the real perpetrators, who are then made to reimburse the village, and to suffer such other punishment as may be awarded. The rigid enforcement of this system, both in these and other districts in Guzerat under Political control, has tended greatly to tranquillize the country and put down robberies, to which the Koolees have been addicted from the earliest times.

NATURE OF POLICY ADOPTED.

With the exception of the State of Radhunpoor, over which the Political Superintendent exercises only a general supervision, except in international disputes when his interference is necessary, Mehtas, paid by the Chiefs, and acting under the orders of the Political Superintendent, are stationed in the Talookas noted in the margin, to whom the Chiefs apply on all occasions of differences with neighbouring Chiefs. Thanas of Gaekwar Horse are placed under the different Mehtas to assist them in carrying on their duties. It is the especial duty of the Mehtas to notice all crimes and misdemeanors, to seize and forward all the offenders to the Hoozoor, and to see that all orders that may be issued from the Hoozoor are properly carried out. It has always been the policy of this Government to uphold the legitimate authority of the Chiefs, and thereby induce them to take an interest in their Estates; but in most cases, rather than exercise their own authority and incur enmity, they prefer applying to the Hoozoor for redress even against their own subjects. The consequence is, that a great amount of work devolves on the Political Superintendent, who is constantly called on to interfere in disputes which might easily have been settled by the Chiefs themselves.

All offences are tried before the Political Superintendent, who has authority delegated to him from Government to punish to the extent of seven years' imprisonment with hard labour: offences requiring severer punishment are brought before the High Court of Criminal Justice, over which the Political Superintendent presides, assisted by four Chiefs (Native assessors); the proceedings of this court are submitted for sanction to the Bombay Government.

There is a jail at Pahlunpoor, in which prisoners guilty of minor offences are confined. Every punishment must be awarded by the Political Superintendent. No Mehta in charge of a district can inflict punishment of any sort; every case must be referred to the Political Superintendent for his decision.

MILITARY FORCE.

To assist the Political Superintendent in carrying on his duties in the various districts under his control, 800 of the Gaekwar Horse stationed at Deesa (but outside the camp limits) are placed under his orders. They furnish the different outposts in the country; take charge of prisoners; and are also employed keeping open the communication between the Hoozoor and the different Talookas. As a military body they are very indifferent, but in the performance of their civil duties they are of great use to the Political Superintendent.

In accordance with the terms of the agreement entered into by His Highness the Gaekwar and the British Government, in A. D. 1817, the former is bound to keep up 3,000 horse to co-operate with the British troops if required, to be armed and disciplined after the Gaekwar fashion. This force is divided into three Quotas, viz. the Paga, Silledar, and Seebundy Quotas. Many of the Pagas belong to his Highness, and all to influential Sirdars belonging to his Court. In general the horses are the property of the Pagadar, the men riding them being termed "Bargeers"; but Silledars, men riding their own horses, are now admitted, and of late years the owner of the Pagas, rather than incur the expense of replacing worn-out horses, entertain Silledars at a lower rate of pay, a system most destructive to the efficiency of the Horse. The Silledar Quota is composed of the descendants of the old Muratha Horse; who assisted the Gaëkwar family in subverting the Mahomedan Government in Guzerat. Many of these Silledars are in possession of honorary distinctions for former services; their horses and equipments are generally good; they are proud of their independent position, and, in consequence, are more insubordinate than the other Quotas.

The Seebundy Pagas are composed generally of Sindees or Mussulmans. They are by far the most efficient, and are more obedient to orders than the two other Quotas. Their pay is very small, not exceeding Rs. 17 per mensem; their horses, in consequence, are small and mean-looking, but the men are well armed and soldier-like in appearance.

The Paga Quotas are well paid, partly in money, partly by assignments of villages; and if the Pagadars took any pride in their respective Pagas, they possess sufficient means to make them very efficient: but of late years, a feeling has sprung up amongst them to curtail the expenditure as much as possible, without any regard to the efficiency of their Pagas, and as any interference on our part with this body is looked on with great jealousy by the Baroda Durbar, the representations of the Political Superintendent in charge of these Contingents are but little regarded. The pay is much in arrears, as although it is regularly received from the Gaekwar Government, it is otherwise disposed of by the owners of the Pagas, &c.

The pay of a Bargeer varies from Rs. 4 to Rs. 15 per mensem. The Silledar Quota's pay varies from Rs. 17 to Rs. 70 per mensem; but the Pagadars and others, who entertain Silledars to replace old worn-out horses, obtain them at a much lower rate.

The arms of the Contingent are spears, matchlocks, sword, and shield; they have no uniform, and each dresses according to his own fashion.

The Contingent is without any discipline. A Paga of 100 horse has not more than a Sur Noubut Commander, two Standard-bearers, two Noubuts, a Karcoon, and Hole Suwar; these never leave the head quarters, and in consequence, when a detachment is ordered out, one of the horsemen is selected to command, and every thing depends upon the influence he may possess over the minds of the horsemen placed in his charge.

The conduct of the Contingent towards the inhabitants of the country in which they are employed is always good, and but few complaints are brought against them. Of the 800 men of which this portion of the Contingent is composed, 475 are permanently absent on outpost duty.

PAHLUNPOOR.

A HISTORY OF THE LEADING EVENTS WHICH HAVE OCCURRED IN THE PAHLUNPOOR STATE, NORTHERN GUZERAT, SINCE THE PERIOD OF ITS FIRST CONNEXION WITH THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT; THE POLICY PURSUED TOWARDS IT, AND THE RESULT, SHOWN; TOGETHER WITH A FULL ACCOUNT OF SUBSISTING TREATIES.

The first British connexion with this State, a tributary of His Highness the Gaekwar, took place in the year 1813. For some years previously, the chief power had been in the hands of a faction of Sindee Jumadars, who, in A. D. 1812, murdered the then reigning Dewan, Feeroz Khan, when out hunting, under suspicion that he was about to restrict their authority. Having committed this act, they offered the Dewanship to his only son, Futtch Khan, the present Chief,* then thirteen years of age. By the advice of his mother, a woman of strong mind, who well knew her son would be but a mere tool in the hands of the faction, he refused the offer, and, through his late father's Karbarees, petitioned the Gaekwar and the British Government for assistance and protection from his father's murderers. In the mean time the Jumadars, having seized and placed him in strict confinement, invited his uncle, Shumshere Khan, then Chief of the districts of Deesa and Danera, to Pahlunpoor, to undertake the management of affairs. (This Chief, who had been superseded in the Dewanship by Feeroz Khan eighteen years before, as stated in the "History of the reigning family," although he had since constantly waged a petty war with Pahlunpoor and sometimes with success too, still had no hand in the death of the Dewan.) He accepted the offer; in the mean time interference in favour of the rightful heir being considered necessary by the joint Governments, Captain Carnac, then Resident at Baroda, proceeded to Pahlunpoor with the British and Gaekwar forces under the command of General Holmes. On the road, information was received that the Jumadars intended to carry off Futtch Khan on the approach of the force to Pahlunpoor, in order that his presence might give a sanction in the country to any lawless measures it might suit their interest to pursue. In this violence Shumshere Khan was afterwards fully exonerated by the Jumadars. On receipt of the information, and in hopes of preventing the act, the force marched at once to Pahlunpoor, which was threatened with assault unless Futtch Khan was immediately given up: he was soon sent into the British camp, and Futtch Khan, Dewan of Pahlunpoor, died on the 11th July 1854, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Zorawur Khan.

Shumshere Khan also shortly afterwards surrendered himself. The Jumadars were likewise informed by Captain Carnac that if they submitted themselves, their personal safety would be cared for, and anything they had to urge in defence of their late proceedings attended to; but, fearing the displeasure of the British Government, they fled to the hills with a few followers. From the great strength of the country and the smallness of the detachment, it was not considered advisable to follow them; the town was then given up without opposition.

In consequence of Futteh Khan's tender age and inexperience, it became necessary to ascertain if any members of his family were fit to superintend the affairs of the State during his minority: after strict examination none were found capable, all being either deficient in education, wanting in intellect, or in habits of business. Under these circumstances, the choice of a guardian became one of some intricacy, as the interposition of the Gaekwar authority was a measure desirable to be avoided until the last extremity, as being opposed to those principles of justice and moderation to the tributary powers which had been so wisely circulated and guaranteed by the British Government. After some consideration, it was considered the most natural and congenial to the feelings of those concerned, to consolidate the interests of Futteh Khan and Shumshere Khan, whose consanguinity authorised the act: another powerful motive to incite this association of interest was shown in a review of the history of this State during many generations, exhibiting an uninterrupted scene of anarchy and confusion, terminating in the establishment of the power of the mercenaries in its employ, and consequent aggravation of its intestine troubles.

The management of affairs was then offered to Shumshere Khan during the minority of the young Chief. He at first refused, and urged his own pretensions to the Gadee. The claim was fully inquired into by Captain Carnac, and found untenable; more particularly as the Gaekwar Government had placed Feeroz Khan on the Gadee and recognised him as the Chief, it followed that his only son would be equally supported: in this decision Shumshere Khan afterwards acquiesced. After much discussion, it was fully agreed on by all parties that Shumshere Khan should be appointed, and, having no issue of his own, he agreed to adopt Futteh Khan as his son, and make him heir to all his possessions, including the districts of Deesa and Danera, with the exception of a small provision for a son, should one hereafter be born to him. This desirable arrangement having been finally concluded on the 22nd December 1813, the ceremony of investing Futteh Khan with the sovereignty of Pahlunpoor, and his adoption by Shumshere Khan, took place in presence of Captain Carnac, several gentlemen, and the principal people of the place, the arrangement appearing to give very general satisfaction. To make the tie more binding, it was afterwards agreed on between the parties that Shumshere Khan should give his daughter in marriage to Futteh Khan.

From this date until 1816, although there were constant dissensions in the State, it does not appear that they were considered of sufficient moment to require the interference of the British Government, until the latter end of that year, when Futteh Khan complained to the Resident at Baroda of his uncle's conduct in alienating the revenues of the State, and other mismanagement. Lieutenant Robertson was deputed to Pahlunpoor to inquire into the grievances complained of. Both parties having been summoned to Sidhpoor (eighteen miles from Pahlunpoor), a lengthened inquiry was made by that officer into the different charges, when it was fully proved that Shumshere Khan had in several instances departed from his agreement guaranteed by the British Government, and that, since he had had the management of affairs, the debts of the State had greatly increased; that the annual tribute of Rs. 50,000 to the Gaekwar Government had remained unpaid since 1813; and that he had within the last three years, without the signature or permission of Futteh Khan, given away nearly 100 villages to Wujjehdars, distant relations of his own, and to others, in order to attach them to his person, thereby alienating from the State nearly Rs. 50,000 or upwards of one-fifth of the yearly revenue. It was also reported to the Agent, on good authority, that Shumshere Khan had threatened to take the life of the young Chief, should he be deprived of the management of affairs. Lieutenant Robertson having received his instructions from the Resident, then addressed a letter to Shumshere Khan, in the name of the British Government, informing him that in consequence of his having failed in administering the affairs of the State according to his agreement, as shown in the foregoing inquiry, it was deemed essential, in order to secure the rights and interests of Futteh Khan, to deprive him of all authority in the State: he was also told by that officer that any resistance to this measure would deprive him of all claim to consideration and the chance of retaining his authority over Deesa. On receiving this letter, Shumshere Khan, as a last resource, opened a private communication with Futteh Khan, trying to persuade him that the British Government, in interfering between them, merely wished to benefit itself at their expense, and that Futteh Khan would thereby become a mere pensioner on that Government: he recommended a return of friendship between them, and promised at once to marry his daughter to him, a measure before agreed on, but which had been delayed by the dissensions between them. These insinuations and solicitations seem to have had their due weight with Futteh Khan, who secretly left the Agent's camp with Shumshere Khan, and proceeded with him and all his followers to Pahlunpoor. On this, Lieutenant Robertson returned to Baroda, and a field force, under Colonel Elrington, was again detached to Pahlunpoor, to enforce a settlement of its affairs; Captain Miles being appointed to accompany it and conduct the negotiations. On the 10th October 1817, the force having arrived in the neighbourhood of Pahlunpoor, was attacked by the Pahlunpoor troops under Shumshere Khan, who after a slight skirmish retreated inside the walls: the town was then assaulted and carried; Shumshere Khan and all his followers retreating toward the hills north, taking Futteh Khan with them.

Detachments from the field force having followed the fugitives, Shumshere Khan took shelter in the foreign territory of Nemuj, and Futteh Khan shortly afterwards came in to Captain Miles and submitted himself to the British Government, who, taking into consideration his youth and inexperience, and being well aware he had acted by the advice of others and not of his own free will, again received him into favour; but his late conduct had fully shown his inability to manage his own affairs, nor were any of his family or relations more capable. Of this he himself became fully aware, for, a few days afterwards, he addressed a letter through Captain Miles to the Gaekwar Government, requesting His Highness the Gaekwar would use his interest with the British Government to allow him an English gentleman to control his affairs, and also that the Gaekwar Government would depute a respectable Native as Vukeel, to assist him in his revenue accounts and make arrangements for the payment of the yearly tribute of Rs. 50,000 to that State. Both requests were consented to by the joint Governments, without permission of the superior authority; and, after some negotiation, the villages alienated from the State by Shumshere Khan having been resumed, the Articles of Agreement which are annexed, and which supersede all former treaties, were sealed and delivered by Futteh Khan to Captain Miles, and were afterwards fully approved and confirmed by the British and Gaekwar Governments (with the exception of Article II., the horsemen to be entertained being reduced from 250 to 150, the State not being considered equal to bearing the greater expense). Captain Miles was shortly afterwards confirmed in his appointment as Political Agent, to superintend its affairs.

In the following year (1819), Shumshere Khan having given himself up, nine villages, whose net revenue amounted to Rs. 25,000 per annum, were appropriated for his support, to revert to the State at his death, which happened in 1834, when fresh provision was made for his widows and servants, to the amount of Rs. 6,000 yearly and the revenue of four villages: his daughter was married to Futteh Khan shortly after his submission. Since this date nothing has occurred in this State worthy of remark.

By the arrangement which has existed with this State since 1817, and which continues in force to this day, the British Government exercises a minute control over its finances. The different charges. Chief's expenditure. &c.

being fixed, and no extra disbursements of any heavy amount being admitted without its special sanction; the revenue being assigned to the State Banker under engagements secured by the Honorable Company's guarantee; the Government Agent having to furnish yearly accounts of the revenue, and being, as far as is in his power, answerable for its proper collection and appropriation, a greater degree of interference with its internal affairs is exercised than in other Native States not so circumstanced.

The interference of the British Government has been of the greatest advantage to this petty State. From the day a British Agent was placed in charge of its affairs, it has continued to prosper. Instead of being in a miserable state of anarchy and confusion, and its destinies guided by a band of foreign mercenaries, and loaded with an overwhelming debt (the condition it was first found in by us), it is now in a flourishing state, and has ever since enjoyed perfect tranquillity both from foreign aggressions and internal dissensions. It is now released from all debt, and has a floating balance of surplus revenue, amounting to Rs. 50,000, in the State Banker's hands, as a deposit for any emergency or deficiency of revenue from drought or other calamity.

The appointment of the Gaekwar Vukeel previously alluded to, was abolished by Government in 1848; with this exception the treaty holds good to this day.

The relations of this State with its neighbour Sirohee, have long been on a very unsatisfactory footing, in consequence of certain territorial possessions having been acquired by the former Dewans of Pahlunpoor from the border Thakoors of Sirohee, who, unable to protect themselves from the inroads of the Bheels and other tribes, and contrasting the weakness and inability of their own superior to afford them protection with the power and ability of Pahlunpoor, transferred their allegiance from Sirohee, and wrote over their Estates in shares to the Dewan of Pahlunpoor.

In this condition we found them when in A. D. 1817-18 we extended our protection to both States. The Rao of Sirohee then perceiving his losses, applied to the British Government for its aid to recover rights which his own apathy and feebleness had forfeited; and it was decided that no interference should be exercised antecedent to the period of our rule, but that all possessions subsequently acquired by Pahlunpoor should be returned to Sirohee.

To effect the complete adjustment of all these territorial claims, after much previous correspondence and inquiry, Lieutenant-Colonel Miles, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor, and Captain Spiers, Political Superintendent of Sirohee, met on the frontier, and on the 10th July 1824 reported to Government the arrangements which they recommended, requesting, to avoid all future differences, they might, if sanctioned, be pronounced final; and on the 24th September 1824 they were declared final by the Supreme Government.

Unfortunately, however, in making over the various Talookas either to Sirohee or Pahlunpoor, the villages composing the Talookas were not enumerated, but merely the number of the villages; and in some cases not even this precaution was taken. Owing to this omission, Sirohee has for the last twenty-eight years disputed the decision, and by constantly denying the right of Pahlunpoor to enjoy certain villages as belonging to the Talookas so made over in 1824, has prevented that State from deriving the full advantages expected from the settlement effected by both gentlemen.

In the year 1850, Major Malcolm, then Political Agent of Jodhpoor, and Lieutenant Bechur, of the Bengal Engineers, were appointed Commissioners to decide the right of Pahlunpoor to certain villages claimed under the settlement alluded to in the preceding paragraph. After a patient investigation, the three villages as per margin were confirmed to Pahlunpoor, and directed to be made over to that State; the decision was contested by Sirohee, but Colonel Low, then the Governor General's Agent, rejected the claim, and confirmed the proceedings of the Commissioners. The Thakoors of Padur and Bhuttana, who claimed possession of these villages, outlawed themselves in 1851, and the former committed several atrocities against the unoffending subjects of the Pahlunpoor State, for the purpose of compelling the Dewan of Pahlunpoor to give up the villages. They were subsequently called in and re-settled in their villages, a fine of Rs. 3,000 having been levied against the Rao of Sirohee by order of Colonel Low, as compensation to Pahlunpoor for the injuries her subjects had sustained at the hands of Sirohee.

The constant disputes between the two States rendered it desirable that a well-defined boundary should be laid down, and at the recommendation of Colonel Low in 1851, two Commissioners, one from Bengal and the other from Bombay, were appointed to define the boundary: this was completed last year.

Intermingled as the two States are, with the causes which exist for enmity between the Chiefs, and particularly on the part of the Rao of Sirohee, in consequence of the loss of so much territory to Pahlunpoor, which, from the late decisions, he can now never hope to recover, a long time must elapse ere a better feeling can be expected to prevail on the frontier; indeed, at the present moment, the Thakoor of Bhuttana, with a number of his brethren, all belonging to Sirohee, are under surveillance at Sirohee, having last year (1853) outlawed themselves against Pahlunpoor, for loss sustained, it is said, at the hands of the Commissioners in the settlement of the boundary. The Chief of Bhuttana surrendered himself last year (in October), but a few are still in outlawry, and are supposed to be concerned in the excesses which are of common occurrence on the frontier.

HISTORY, &c. OF THE REIGNING FAMILY OF PAHLUNPOOR.

The Pahlunpoor family is of Affghan origin, belonging to the Lohanee tribe, and, it is said, occupied Behar in the reign of Humayoon, Emperor of Delhi. They subsequently took service with the Kings of Delhi; and from Acbar Shah in A. D. 1597, Guznee Khan, the Chief, obtained the title of Dewan, for having successfully repulsed an invasion of the Affghan tribes: for his services on this occasion, he was also rewarded with the government of Lahore. In A. D. 1682 Futteh Khan Dewan received the province of Jhalore, Sachore, Pahlunpoor, and Deesa from the Emperor Aurungzebe. Futteh Khan died in A. D. 1688, leaving an only son, Peer Khan, who was supplanted in his rights by his uncle Kummal Khan, who, subsequently, being unable to withstand the increasing power of the Rathores of Marwar, was compelled, in A. D. 1698, to quit the country and retire with his family and dependants to Pahlunpoor, where the family has remained ever since.

The Pahlunpoor districts were at that time composed of the Talookas of Pahlunpoor and Deesa. Kummal Khan died in A. D. 1705, on which Peer Khan applied to Delhi for assistance in obtaining his rights, of which he had been deprived by his uncle Feeroz Khan. The son of Kummal Khan also exerted his influence at the Court of Delhi, and, through bribes, obtained a Sunnud in his name; and Peer Khan, seeing the inutility of further opposition, accepted a grant of ten or twelve villages and withdrew from the contest.

Feeroz Khan thereon succeeded his father in A. D. 1705, and obtained possession of the Dantawara Purguna belonging to Sirohee. Feeroz Khan died in A. D. 1719, leaving five sons. His eldest son, Kurrum Khan, ascended the Gadee, and afterwards accompanied Abhaee Sing to Ahmedabad, and assisted him in gaining possession of the city and in expelling Sirboolund Khan.

Kurrum Khan's son, Peer Khan, succeeded his father in A. D. 1732, and, dying childless in A. D. 1743, was succeeded by his uncle Bahadoor Khan. During his reign he built the walls round the town of Pahlunpoor, and obtained possession of the "Puttas" of Danera, Mullana, Soor, Bakree, Dabella, Serotra, and Roha from Sirohee, and the Sumber Putta of twenty-one villages from the Sumber Mussulmans.

Bahadoor Khan was succeeded by his son Selim Khan in A. D. 1781, who, dying three years afterwards, his son Shere Khan assumed the reigns of government. In A. D. 1791 Shere Khan died, having been poisoned, it is supposed by his own sister, who was anxious to ensure the Gadee to her own son, Moobaruck Khan, and in consequence of her intrigues Moobaruck Khan was placed on the Gadee; but the Chiefs being dissatisfied, gave countenance to Shumshere Khan, a grandson of one of the brothers of Bahadoor Khan Dewan, and expelled Moobaruck Khan. During the disturbances which ensued, Feeroz Khan, the grandson of Peer Khan, who had withdrawn from the contest in A. D. 1705, came forward and claimed the Gadee, and having been supported, Shumshere Khan fled to Deesa, and Feeroz Khan was installed in A. D. 1794 by the unanimous voice of the people. In A. D. 1812 he was murdered by the Sindee Jumadars in his service, when Shumshere Khan again assumed the reigns of government, with the consent of the Jumadars, in supersession of the rights of Futteh Khan the son of Feeroz Khan. Futteh Khan applied for the assistance of the British Government. A force was accordingly despatched under General Holmes, which threatened Pahlunpoor with an assault if Futteh Khan was not immediately given up; this threat produced the surrender of Futteh Khan, who was invested with the sovereignty of Pahlunpoor in December 1813, his uncle, Shumshere Khan, being appointed to manage the affairs of the State.

Futteh Khan,* Dewan of Pahlunpoor, is fifty-six years of age, of very good manners and mildness of disposition. He has four sons, two by his wife the daughter of Shumshere Khan, named Zorawur Khan and Ahmud Khan, and two by another wife, named Oosman Khan and Secunder Khan. The first, Zorawur Khan, heir to the throne, is thirty-two years of age, of a quiet, mild disposition and good manners; the other three sons are intelligent, particularly Oosman Khan. No peculiarity exists in respect to the order of succession.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARIES OF THE PAHLUNPOOR STATE, WITH AN OUTLINE SKETCH OF THE SAME, AND THE OTHER DISTRICTS SUBORDINATE TO THIS SUPERINTENDENCY; A BRIEF ACCOUNT OF THE CLIMATE, AND GENERAL FEATURES OF THE COUNTRY; PRODUCTIONS OF THE STATE; AS ALSO THE RIVERS AND ROADS WHICH PASS THROUGH IT, &c.

Extent.—The territory depending on Pahlunpoor comprises the divisions of Dhandar, Deesa, and Danera, and extends north and south from the foot of Mount Aboo to the Gaekwar districts about forty-five miles, and east and westward from Berumpoor to Thurad about sixty miles; it possesses an area of 2,384 square miles, and contains 398 villages.

Boundary.—It is bounded on the north by Marwar and Sirohee; south by the Gaekwar districts of Puttun, Kheraloo, and the Kankruj; east by Sirohee and Danta under the Mahee Kanta Agency; west by Thurad and Deodur.

* Since this paper was written Futteh Khan has died, and was succeeded, on the 11th July 1854, by his eldest son, Zorawur Khan, who is now (1856) in the thirty-third year of his age.

General Features.—In the neighbourhood of Pahlunpoor itself the country is undulating, or rather a succession of sandy hillocks; to the north, where it abuts on Sirohee and Danta, extremely mountainous; and westward towards Thurad and Kankruj it is a level plain, more or less covered with low jungle. A range of high mountains commences about twelve miles from the town of Pahlunpoor, and runs nearly north until it unites with Mount Aboo, and partly divides Sirohee from Pahlunpoor.

Soil.—To the north and west light and sandy, generally producing only one crop yearly; to the south and east towards the hills it is rich black, allowing of three crops being produced during the same period. For the former soil light showers are sufficient, but heavy rain is required for the latter. The wells are generally about forty feet deep, but, owing to drought or other causes, of late years the springs have greatly dried up, and water is now only procured at nearly double that depth.

Produce.—Only the usual common grains of the country, such as wheat, rice, Bajree, &c. A good deal of sugar-cane is cultivated in the black soil under the hills, but with only moderate profit to the cultivators; no attempt having as yet been made to manufacture sugar from it, it is either made into Goor or sold in the stick at a very cheap rate. A little cotton is grown on the borders of the fields near villages. In the jungles north and east there are good grazing lands, and in the hills on the border much timber for building purposes is procurable.

Climate.—The year may be divided into four seasons, namely hot, rainy, hot, and cold: the first, March, April, May, and June; the second, July and August; the third, September and October and part of November; the fourth, November, December, January, and February. During the first season the hot winds blow with great violence, accompanied by sand-storms; the heat is very great during the months of March, April, May, and June, the thermometer often ranging from 90° to 120°: during the second season the rains are seldom heavy: the third season is considered the most unhealthy for both Europeans and Natives: the fourth is pleasant. With the exception of the months of September and October, the climate may be considered good, although the heat at times is excessive.

Rivers.—The rivers that water the Pahlunpoor territory are the Bunnass, Surruswutti, and Numradakee, and some small streams; they all take their rise from the mountains north-east, and fall into or disappear near the Runn. The principal river is the Bunnass, on the banks of which is the Deesa Cantonment; it only fills after very heavy rain, and is perfectly dry during the other seasons.

Roads.—There are no made roads in these districts; and from the extreme sandy nature of the soil, particularly in the southern parts, as well as from the want of proper materials, which could only be procured from a distance, the expense of constructing one would be more than the Dewan could afford. The road from Pallee, &c. passes through the Pahlunpoor districts, and thence through the Gaekwar States (which intervene between the Pahlunpoor and Company's districts) to the Dhollera Bunder in Katteewar, returning with English goods by the same road. Carts are generally employed in bringing in the merchandize to Sirohee, where they are exchanged for camels. The road from Pahlunpoor, until it touches on Katteewar, a distance of about 110 miles, runs through deep heavy sand; of this, about fifteen miles belong to Pahlunpoor, and the remainder of the distance is shared between the Gaekwar and Company's States.

The Pahlunpoor towns and villages are all situated on a level plain, with roads communicating one with the other, and with the various districts situated on its borders. During the rainy season, owing to the freshes in the rivers and smaller streams, communication is for a short time, until the freshes subside, difficult; but in other seasons there are no difficulties whatever, the country being perfectly accessible.

The Principal Towns are Pahlunpoor and Deesa.—The former of these towns, which is the seat of Government, contains about 5,591 houses, with a population amounting to about 17,539 souls. The town is surrounded with a good strong brick wall, about twenty feet high, having circular towers at the various angles; it has seven gateways, flanked with bastions, and all protected by the usual outworks; the walls are loop-holed, and a few cannon are placed on the principal towers; a dry ditch, now partly filled up, encircles the town. It is a place of no strength, and could be easily taken by escalade; the walls also are not sufficiently thick to withstand even light artillery.

Deesa contains about 1,000 houses, with a population amounting to 4,000 souls. Like Pahlunpoor, it is surrounded with a wall and towers, but in very bad repair, and in many places the wall has fallen down, and in consequence it is incapable of defence. Its position on the banks of the Bunnass, surrounded with deep ravines, makes it difficult of access; and in former times it has successfully resisted the attacks of the Gaekwar and Radhunpoor forces.

There are no other fortified places within these districts, although some of the border villages situated amongst ravines, or at the foot of hills, are somewhat difficult of approach; the rest of the villages are all situated in the plain, their only defence being a hedge of thorns.

Population.—The population consists of about 1,78,051 souls; of this number about one-seventh are Mussulmans, the remainder are Hindoos.

Language.—The language in general use is the Guzerathee, even amongst the Mussulmans. On the borders of Marwar and Sirohee, it alters and approximates to the Marwaree.

THE REVENUES AND DISBURSEMENTS OF THE PAHLUNPOOR ESTATE; ITS ENGAGEMENTS WITH NEIGHBOURING STATES, &c.

The revenues of the State, including land tax and customs, average nearly Rs. 3,00,000 per annum. The disbursements, including the Civil, Military, and Agency charges, allowances to the relations of the present Chief, including tribute to the Gaekwar, Rs. 50,000, and the private expenses of the Dewan and his household amount to very nearly the same sum. Whatever balance may remain at the termination of the year, is paid over to the Dewan; but for the last two years the expenses have exceeded the receipts by Rs. 23,000. The State, however, with this exception, is free from debt, and there is a floating balance in the hands of the Banker, of Rs. 50,000.

The Pahlunpoor State pays no tribute of any kind to the British Government, merely the expenses of the Agent, which is Rs. 500 per mensem; but it pays Babasaee Rs. 50,000, or Company's Rs. 45,512-8-0 yearly tribute to His Highness the Gaekwar.

There was formerly an engagement with the neighbouring petty Rajpoot district of Danta joining the eastern boundary of Pahlunpoor. In 1819, that State being much over-run by the Koolees and Bheels of the neighbouring districts north and east of it, its Chief, Juggut Sing, sought the assistance of Pahlunpoor; it was granted on an agreement between the two States that, for the support to be afforded, Pahlunpoor should receive seven annas in the rupee of all revenue; but the agreement not having been acted up to, Government, in 1848, cancelled the agreement for a yearly money payment of Rs. 500, which is paid by the Danta Chief to Pahlunpoor.

CONTINGENT CORPS; THEIR OBJECT, FORMATION, AND CONSTITUTION; WHEN RAISED; FROM WHAT SOURCE PAID; THE LIMITS WITHIN WHICH THEY ARE BOUND TO SERVE.

The only troops subsidized by this State are 150 horse and 100 foot; their object is to defend it from aggressions of neighbouring States and preserve it in peace and order: they consist generally of foreigners, and are commanded by different Jumadafs, who receive Rs. 30 for each horseman and Rs. 10 for each footman, all expenses of arms and horses being included in those amounts. They were first raised in A. D. 1817 for reasons shown in the second and third Articles of the Agreement, and are paid by this State; they are bound to serve wherever they are ordered: when on service they have always acted well. The footmen generally remain stationed in the Town of Pahlunpoor for the protection of its different gates with part of the horsemen, the rest being posted in detachments on the frontiers most open to the incursions of plunderers.

Formerly an officer was appointed to command them, receiving Rs. 600 per mensem, but they are now under the charge of the Political Superintendent.

THE STRENGTH, ORGANIZATION, AND CHARACTER OF THE NATIVE FORCE NOT UNDER BRITISH CONTROL ; THE SYSTEM OF POLICE, WITH REFERENCE TO THE PRESERVATION OF PEACE AND SECURITY OF PROPERTY ON THE BORDERS OF THE NEIGHBOURING STATES.

The Native force at present consists of 99 horsemen and 476 footmen ; they are stationed on the frontier and in different villages, to protect the districts from incursions of the Koolees and Bheels of the neighbouring States, and to afford protection generally.

Besides this force, the Dewan, by paying for their daily food, opium, tobacco, &c., could collect from his different villages 500 horsemen armed with swords, shields, and matchlocks, and 8,000 footmen, the greater part of whom would be armed with matchlocks, the rest with swords and bows and arrows : the men after their own fashion would be effective, the Koollee population being remarkably active and efficient men ; they have no discipline, and could not, and would not, offer opposition to the regular troops.

Police arrangements.—According to the customs in use from immemorial times in Native States, every village must be answerable for the integrity of its own limits ; and where outrages have been committed, if the Puggées (who enjoy land free for the performance of this service and as village watchmen) cannot track out the footmarks and make them over to another village, the villagers in whose limits the outrage has been committed are answerable for it. This system supersedes the necessity of a police, and when rigidly enforced, most effectually puts a stop to robberies.

TREATIES, AGREEMENTS, &c. WITH THE PAHLUN-POOR STATE.

Articles of Agreement entered into by Futtch Khan, Dewan of Pahlunpoor and Deesa, of his own free will, for the better government and security of the abovementioned Principalities, signed and delivered to Captain William Miles, Political Agent on the part of the British Government, at Pahlunpoor, on the 28th November 1817.

PREAMBLE.—That to place the territory depending on Pahlunpoor and Deesa in security from internal and external dissension and violence ; to obviate the trouble so often occasioned to the British and Gaekwar Governments from the bad administration of the affairs of this petty State; and with a view to the improvement of the country, the following Articles of Agreement are entered into by me, and hereby confirmed:—

ARTICLE I.—The British and Gaekwar Governments having been pleased to seat me on the Gadee of my father, and establish my authority over Pahlunpoor and Deesa, it is my desire, to the end that this State, which is in a ruinous condition, may be better governed, its security and tranquillity ensured, and a provision made for the discharge of arrears and debts in which from bad management it has been involved, to receive the aid and advice of a respectable man in quality of Agent* from the part of the Gaekwar Government. He shall have full access to my revenue accounts, receipts, and expenditure, and I engage to follow his suggestions in all arrangements whatever relating to government. It is indispensable that this Agent be such as shall possess the confidence of the British Government; and, as his situation demands he should be disinterested, his salary must be liberal.

ARTICLE II.—I also agree to subsidize 250† horse, with a Sirdar to command them; the pay of the horse to be Rs. 30 each per mensem, and the Sirdar shall receive Rs. 600 per mensem. I require these troops to defend my country against enemies of every description, and to preserve it in peace and order. They are to be good horse, and always ready to act in a body against the refractory Shumshere Khan and his adherents, and in fact for all purposes, to secure the tranquillity of the country. They will not be employed without the concurrence of the Gaekwar Agent, and are not to be sent on revenue details without the orders of Government. When their services are not otherwise required, they are to be stationed near me for my personal protection.

ARTICLE III.—The gate called Bahadoor Guj is to remain in charge of the Sirkar troops; 100 good infantry to be stationed there, and their rate of pay Rs. 10 monthly each man, Jumadar included.

ARTICLE IV.—The horse, infantry, their Commander, and the Agent, to be paid monthly without deduction, and the Banker who pays them shall have territory assigned to him for the discharge of their salaries.

ARTICLE V.—The Sirkar dues (Khundnee Rs. 50,000 per annum) shall henceforward be paid punctually every year at Baroda. The arrears, Rs. 75,000, shall be discharged in the course of the next year; but in consideration that the country has suffered much from want of rain, the exactions of Shumshere

* This Agent was afterwards styled "Gaekwar Vukeel at Pahlunpoor." The appointment being considered by the Bombay Government to be no longer requisite, it was finally ordered to be abolished on the 10th January 1848; and this arrangement was confirmed by the Honorable the Court of Directors on the 10th May following.

† Reduced to 150 under the sanction of Government dated the 2nd January 1818.

Khan, and ravages of the Koolees, with the constant movement of troops through it lately, I hope Government will be indulgent in their expectations and claims, at least for the present.

ARTICLE VI.—From the impoverished condition of the country, and other claims on the Pahlunpoor State, the sums due to the Mahunt of Sidhpoor cannot at present be discharged; but in the course of the next year some arrangement, in concert with the Gaekwar Agent, shall be made for their gradual payment.

ARTICLE VII.—A misunderstanding having arisen between me and Shumshere Khan, in consequence of his violation of the agreement made by him with Captain Carnac, Resident of Baroda, in Sumvut 1870 (or A. D. 1813), I retired to Sidhpoor, and complained to the Sirkar. The forces of the two Sirkars in consequence marched to this quarter, and Pahlunpoor was taken, and I have been reseated on the Gadee; I therefore consent to pay the expenses of the troops of both Sirkars, with the usual allowances for killed, wounded, loss of horses, &c. according to the orders of Government.

ARTICLE VIII.—Shumshere Khan is an offender and disobedient to the Sirkar. I engage therefore not to have any communication with him or his adherents; but should Shumshere Khan submit himself, and Government be pleased to grant him any allowance, I will pay it agreeable to their commands.

ARTICLE IX.—I engage not to give protection to any offenders against either the British or Gaekwar Government, nor to allow them to remain in any part of my territory.

The whole of these Articles, nine in number, are delivered in by me to Government, and I engage to execute them punctually and without diminution or difference. I shall act in all matters in strict conformity and obedience to the orders of the Sirkar, and I bind myself not to commit any insubordinate act, nor cause any disturbance. To this effect I give as my Fuel Zumeen the Nuwab of Summee and Radhunpoor, Shere Khan Babee, and as Arr Zumeen the Rajpoor Gossavee Gokulpoor. If any deviation or difference occur in the execution of the foregoing nine Articles, they will be answerable, and correct me.

Sumvut 1874, Kartik Vud 4th, (agreeing with the 18th Mohurram 1233, or the 28th November 1817).

(Signed) * FUTTEH KHAN.

NOTE.—This agreement was approved by the Government of Bombay on the 2nd January 1818, with the exception of its being resolved that the Quota of Horse alluded to in Article II. should be reduced from 250 to 150. Vide page 12 of this Selection.

PROHIBITION FOR THE TRANSIT OF OPIUM.

Engagement entered into, in September 1822, by Futteh Khan, Dewan of Pahlunpoor and Deesa, for prohibiting the transit of Opium through his Territory.

ARTICLE I.—The orders of the Sirkar being that no opium shall be allowed to pass through the country subject to their control, I, Futteh Khan, do hereby engage to the Sirkar that no opium shall be allowed to pass the limits of my district.

ARTICLE II.—A public Notification has been already issued to my Nakadars to that effect, but I now repeat my determination to use every exertion to put an entire stop to the transport of opium through my Talooka; and because merchants and others may conceal opium among other commodities, all packages shall be strictly examined previous to their being permitted to pass, and should any opium be found in them, it shall be immediately confiscated. In this matter I will not fail.

ARTICLE III.—I beg the favour that the Sirkar may be pleased to direct the Mehta stationed at this place to give his aid in the detection and prevention of the transit of opium.

(Signed) FUTTEH KHAN.

PROCLAMATION AGAINST SUTTEE.

Proclamation issued by the Bombay Government, on the 21st February 1848, forbidding the practice of the rite of Suttee in any of the Districts under the charge of the Political Superintendent at Pahlunpoor.

To all the Chiefs, Zumindars, Talookdars, and inhabitants, &c. It is well known to all, high and low, that throughout British India the rite of Suttee, as a sinful and an unjustifiable taking of life, has been, through the interposition of the British Government, totally abolished by Proclamation since 1829-30; and further, that in 1840, His Highness the Gaekwar, in the most meritorious manner, took this good work into his consideration, and abolished this improper rite throughout his dominions. In this manner has the abolition of Suttee been extended throughout British India, the Gaekwar's territories, and the Rewa and Mahee Kanta Sunsthans, whose Chiefs, in the most praiseworthy manner, unanimously followed the enlightened example of His Highness Syajee Rao.

Now in a like manner it is the positive intention of the British Government to prohibit Suttee in Pahlunpoor, Radhunpoor, Thurad, including Morwara, Wao, Soegaum, Charchut, Terwara, Deodur, Bhabhur, Joonawas and Nuwas, Warye, Chorwar, Thura, and the district of Kankruj, in short in every Estate which is under the superintendence of the Political Superintendent at Pahlunpoor; and hereby every one is apprized of the same, nor may any one after this plead ignorance of this prohibition. Therefore, strictly obeying this injunction, let every one use his utmost endeavours that Suttee be abolished throughout his respective bounds or jurisdiction, and every means taken to prevent it if attempted; and be it understood, that any person, high or low, disobeying this order by not preventing the rite, or by assisting in it, shall be considered as guilty in the eyes of Government of the gravest offence, and will render himself liable to the severest punishment.

By order of the Right Honorable the Governor in Council.

Chief Secretary to Government.

RADHUNPOOR.

HISTORY OF THE LEADING EVENTS WHICH HAVE OCCURRED IN THE RADHUNPOOR STATE, INCLUDING THE PURGUNAS OF MOONJPOOR AND SUMMEE, NORTHERN GUZERAT, SINCE THE PERIOD OF ITS FIRST CONNEXION WITH THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT; THE POLICY PURSUED TOWARDS THAT STATE, AND THE RESULT, &c.

The first connexion of the British Government with this State was in A. D. 1813, in which year Captain Carnac, then Resident at Baroda, concluded an engagement with it, in which the Gaekwar State was empowered, under the advice and mediation of the British Government, to control its external relations, and to assist the Nuwab with forces in defending it from foreign invasion, but excluding the Gaekwar Government from all interference in its internal affairs. A copy of this engagement is attached.

During the years 1814, 1815, 1816, 1817, and 1818, the Khosas and other marauders from Sind having greatly infested the north-west parts of Guzerat, more particularly this petty State, the Nuwab voluntarily solicited the aid of the British Government to expel them, and offered to pay his share of the expenses of the war according to his ability. The aid called for was at once afforded: in A. D. 1819 Colonel Barklay marched with a force and expelled the marauders from all parts of Guzerat; and Major Miles, who accompanied him as Political Agent, negotiated, by the orders of the Bombay Government, the Agreement with the Nuwab in which the latter consented to pay a yearly tribute to the British Government, leaving the actual amount to be hereafter decided on. On the 18th February 1822 the amount of tribute was fixed at Rs. 17,000 per annum for five years certain, after which it was left to the British Government to increase the amount or not. This engagement continued in force until the year A. D. 1825, when the Honorable the Court of Directors, not considering the State able to bear the amount of tribute imposed, it was, by the order of the Bombay Government, remitted in full on the 26th July of that year, since which period this State has been free from all claims from the British Government; the Agreement remaining in force to this date, with the exception of its 3rd Article.

Policy.—The Radhunpoor State is under the management of the British Agent at Pahlunpoor, who controls its relations with the neighbouring States, but avoids as much as possible all interference in its internal affairs. It has enjoyed perfect tranquillity since its first connexion with the British Government, but before that period was in a constant state of warfare and bloodshed.

HISTORY OF THE REIGNING RADHUNPOOR FAMILY; AGE OF THE PRESENT CHIEF; NAME AND CONDITION OF THE HEIR APPA- RENT; &c.

The founder of this family, Bahadoor Khan, originally came from Ispahan, in Persia, about 200 years ago, and entered the service of Sooltan Moosuffer Khan Guzeratee, of Ahmedabad.

His son, Shere Khan Babee, was Thanadar of Chawal in A. D. 1663, and the present reigning family of Joonaghur, in Katteewar, is descended from a brother of Shere Khan.

Sufder Khan, son of Shere Khan, obtained charge of the Puttun districts from the Soobah at Ahmedabad, and whilst there, in the time of Jehangeer Badsha, received in Jagcer the Talooka of Thurad, A. D. 1680.

His son Khan Jehan, otherwise Juwan Murd Khan 1st, was appointed in A. D. 1715 Foujdar of Radhunpoor, during the reign of Ferockshere and the Soobehdaree of Maharaj Abhaee Sing.

About this time the Babees being considered active and useful Bhomias (or natives of Guzerat well acquainted with the state of the province), were employed by the Soobehdars as Foujdars and farmers of the revenue of different Purgunas.

In A. D. 1723, Juwan Murd Khan, who had been subsequently appointed Foujdar of Pitland, was mortally wounded at the village of Baloor, in that Purguna, by the Murathas. A few days after his decease, Moobarizael Moolk, then Soobehdar of Guzerat, and a great friend of the Babee family, bestowed on his eldest son, Kumaloodeen, the title of Juwan Murd Khan, and on his second son, Mahomed Anwur, the title of Sufder Khan, with the Foujdaree of Radhunpoor, and the Purgunas of Radhunpoor, Summee, Moonjpoor, Thurad, Terwara, and Warye; and 30,000 Beegahs of land in an islet in the Runn were confirmed to them. The original Sunnud, bearing date A. D. 1680, is in the possession of the present Nuwab.

In A. D. 1753, Kumaloodeen alias Juwan Murd Khan 2nd, who had usurped the Soobehdaree of Guzerat, was besieged in, and finally expelled from Ahmedabad, by Rugoonath Rao, the brother of Balajee Rao Peshwa. On this occasion the terms of his surrender were that the districts of Puttun, Vurnuggur, Summee, Moonjpoor, Beesnuggur, Thurad, Kheraloo, Radhunpoor including Terwara, and Beejapoor should be ceded to him in Jageer by the Peshwa, but on condition that he should furnish 300 horse and 500 foot whenever called on to do so. This agreement, bearing date A. D. 1756, with the seal of the Peshwa, is also in the possession of the present Nuwab of Radhunpoor.

In A. D. 1765, after the decease of Juwan Murd Khan, the Purgunas of Puttun, Beesnuggur, Kheraloo, Vurnuggur, and Beejapoor (which had been confirmed to him in 1756) were wrested from his sons, Gazooddeen Khan and Nuzmoodeen Khan, by Damajee Rao Gaekwar; but they were allowed to retain the Talookas of Radhunpoor, Summee, Moonjpoor, Thurad, Terwara, and two villages in the Puttun Purguna, Dunnora and Paleepoor; and a Sunnud to that effect, granted by the son of Damajee Rao Gaekwar, bearing date 1770, is in the possession of the Nuwab.

Summee and Moonjpoor were retained by Gazooddeen Khan, and Radhunpoor, Thurad, and Terwara by his brother, who dying childless in A. D. 1787, the districts lapsed to the elder brother.

Gazooddeen had two sons, Shere Khan and Kumaloodeen Khan. On his demise in A. D. 1813, the elder son retained Radhunpoor; the latter Summee and Moonjpoor (the Talookas of Thurad and Terwara appear to have been lost). Kumaloodeen having died in A. D. 1824 under suspicious circumstances, his eldest brother succeeded to the Estate, and died in A. D. 1825.

Zorawur Khan, the present Nuwab of Rhadunpoor, is the illegitimate son of Shere Khan. He was only three years old when he succeeded to the Gadee, and in consequence Sirdar Beebee, the second wife of the Nuwab, was appointed Regent during his minority. In 1837, having arrived at mature age, Zorawur Khan was entrusted with the management of his own affairs.

He has two sons, Bismillah Khan, eleven, and Futtehr Jung Khan, eight years of age.

The Nuwab of Radhunpoor is now thirty-five years of age, of very mild disposition, and with no energy of character; he is in consequence much under the influence of his servants and Karbarees, which frequently operates prejudicially to the interests of the State.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARIES OF THE RADIHUNPOOR STATE; ITS CLIMATE, GENERAL FEATURES, AND PRODUCTIONS; AS ALSO THE RIVERS AND ROADS WHICH PASS THROUGH IT, &c.

Extent and Boundaries.—Radhunpoor, including the Purgunas of Summee and Moonjpoor, is bounded on the north by Morwara and Terwara; south by Mundul and Jhirjoowara; east by the Puttun districts; and west by that of Warye. In extent it is about thirty-five miles broad and thirty-five miles long; it possesses an area of 833 square miles, and contains 150 villages.

General Features.—A flat, open plain, without a hill of any sort.

Soil and Productions.—There are three different soils, the sandy, black, and saline, from which the produce is wheat and all the common grains; all are produced from the monsoon rains, nothing from irrigation except vegetables. The greater part of the Radhunpoor revenue is derivable from the wheat.

produce, which is abundant and very superior, and much sought after: the cotton yield is also profitable: manufactured salt is produced at Unwurpoor,

Climate.—During the months of April, May, June, and July the heat is excessive, in consequence of its proximity to the Runn: August and September are pleasant months if rain falls: October and November are again hot; but December, January, February, and March are very delightful, the cold being much greater than in the Pahlunpoor districts. The rains, which continue generally during the months of July, August, and September, are seldom heavy, and are lighter even than in Pahlunpoor. The district is considered healthy.

Rivers.—The Bunnass river passes through the district, but is not drinkable in the hot weather, owing to the quantity of salt with which the soil is impregnated; but there are a number of very fine tanks built up, which contain water throughout the year. The tank at Waghel is probably the finest in Guzerat; it is of great extent, built up with steps all round it. It was constructed by the Waghela Rajpoots, and is in very good preservation.

The inhabitants of the Radhunpoor districts depend on the tanks for their drinking water, which is generally procurable, even after the tanks are dried up, by digging in the beds: towards the surface the water is good and sweet, but is always brackish the deeper the soil is penetrated. In Radhunpoor itself, during the hot months the inhabitants suffer much from want of water, and many migrate to Summee, where the magnificent tank supplies all.

Water is found from ten to thirty feet deep, but wells are usually dug in beds of tanks or streams; the inhabitants avoid digging to any depth, as brackish water is sure to be found.

Roads.—There are no made roads, but the ground is free from sand, and in consequence carts travel with great facility throughout the districts.

The various towns and villages which compose this State are all situated on the plain, with common roads communicating with each other and with the border districts. The Bunnass river during the rains is occasionally unfordable, and the Runn which divides Guzerat from Kutch is generally impracticable, except in one or two places, during the monsoon and for some time after. In other respects, communication with the other districts, except where the Bunnass river may intervene, is seldom obstructed.

The Principal Towns.—The principal towns are Radhunpoor, Summee, and Moonjpoor. Radhunpoor, which is the seat of Government, contains about 4,000 houses, with a population amounting to 14,000 souls. The town is surrounded with an excellent wall, loop-holed, partly built of stone, partly of brick, from twenty to twenty-five feet high, having towers at the angles, with eight gateways flanked with bastions, and having the usual outworks in front of them; a dry ditch runs round three parts of it, the fourth resting on a small tank. It has no other protection besides its walls, which would not resist even light artillery, and might be easily escaladed.

Summee contains about 1,000 houses, with a population amounting to 4,000 souls. Like Radhunpoor, it is surrounded with a good wall, with towers, &c. about twenty or twenty-five feet high, with outworks before the gateways which are flanked by towers. One side of the town is protected by a very large deep tank. A palace, in very good order, is built over-hanging the tank, which, from its size, is a great ornament to the town.

Moonjpoor is without any defences, and, with the exception of the two abovementioned, there are no other fortified places in the Radhunpoor districts, the villages being protected by a common hedge of thorns. Moonjpoor possesses a fine tank, and the inhabitants carry on a thriving trade with Dholera Bunder.

Population.—The population consists of about 45,293 souls, of which about 12,000 are Mussulman and the remainder Hindoo. ●

Language.—The language in general use is the Guzerathee, in which all business is transacted.

REVENUES AND DISBURSEMENTS, WITH AMOUNT OF TRIBUTE (IF ANY) TO THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT; ENGAGEMENTS WITH NEIGHBOURING STATES.

The revenue averages about Rs. 2,50,000 per annum, which do not more than cover the disbursements. The State pays no tribute to the British or to any other Government; but pays Vol or black mail to the surrounding Koolee districts. It receives Rs. 10,739-14-6 per annum from the British Government for the rent of the Unwurpoora salt-pans.

Contingent.—None.

Native Force.—This Estate keeps up, for the protection of the districts, 235 Sowars and 320 footmen; they are spread about in the different villages, for their protection. In case of foreign invasion, it is entirely dependant on the British Government.

The Nuwab, by paying for the daily food of the men, can collect about 500 horse, a great part of whom are Rajpoots, armed with matchlocks, swords, &c., and about 5,000 footmen, composed partly of Mussulmans and partly of Rajpoots, also armed with matchlocks and swords. The Koolee population is small, and robberies are very scarce in these districts in consequence.

Police arrangements.—According to the custom in use from immemorial times in Native States, every village must be answerable for the integrity of its own limits; and where outrages have been committed, if the Puggées, who enjoy land free for the performance of this service and as village watchmen, cannot track out the footmarks and make them over to another village, the villagers in whose limits the outrage has been committed are answerable for it. This system supersedes the necessity of a police, and, when rigidly enforced, most effectually puts a stop to robberies.

AGREEMENTS, &c.

Articles of Agreement concluded between the Gaekwar Government and Shere Khan Babee Bahadoor, Nuwab of Summee and Radhunpoor, by Succaram Mahadeo, vested with powers for that purpose from His Highness Anund Rao Gaekwar Sena Khaskeyl Sunsher Bahadoor, and under the advice of Captain James Rivett Carnac, Resident at Baroda.

ARTICLE I.

Perpetual friendship shall be maintained between the Gaekwar Government and Shere Khan Babee Bahadoor, Nuwab of Summee and Radhunpoor, his heirs and successors.

ARTICLE II.

His Excellency the Nuwab, his heirs and successors, engage to acknowledge the control of the Gaekwar State, under the mediation of the Honorable Company's Government, in all external relations, and that he will have no communication of any description whatever with foreign powers, except with the knowledge and sanction of the Gaekwar Government.

ARTICLE III.

The Gaekwar Government shall never interfere in the internal concerns of the Radhunpoor State; but in consideration of His Excellency the Nuwab having recognised the supremacy of the Gaekwar State, he (Nuwab) consents to make an annual acknowledgment, by presenting a horse and cloths through the Company's authority at the Gaekwar capital.

ARTICLE IV.

When an enemy invades the territories of Radhunpoor, the Gaekwar Government engages, by the advice of the Honorable Company's Government, to assist the Nuwab with its forces in defending his dominions. It is, however, to be clearly understood, that the Gaekwar Government is not bound to assist the Nuwab in the regulation of his internal Government, but only against external attacks; on such occasions the Nuwab engages to reimburse the Gaekwar for the expenses which may be incurred by the equipment of his forces, which on no other account will enter the limits of the Radhunpoor State.

Dated Camp near Pakhunpoor, the 22nd day of Zeilhuji, 1228 Hijree; corresponding with the sixteenth day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirteen.

Agreement entered into by the Nuwab of Radhunpoor, Shere Khan Babee Bahadoor, with the Honorable Company, on the 24th Ramzan, 1235 Hijree, or the 6th July 1820.

That for a long time the depredations of the Khosas on my dependencies, the Purgunas of Radhunpoor, Summee, &c. have been great, and from that cause the depopulation and injury to them extensive; and as it was not in my power to restrain or expel the Khosas, I wrote describing my situation to the British Government.

The troops of that Government have in consequence been sent to my assistance, and have punished and expelled the Khosas; and as from this measure the prosperity and safety of my Purgunas and people will be secured, I therefore agree, of my own free will, to the following Articles:—

ARTICLE I.

I engage not to permit robbers or enemies of the Government to remain in my dependencies, nor will I allow any Rajpoots or Koolees to remain in my district to molest or plunder the territories of the Honorable Company, of His Highness the Gaekwar, or those of any other State, nor will I maintain any sort of connexion with the Khosas.

ARTICLE II.

In order to promote the chastisement of the Khosas or other robbers, every intelligence of them shall be communicated to the troops of the Sirkar wherever they may be stationed, and no exertion in their punishment equal to my ability shall be wanting; and on every occasion, whatever force of foot or horse I have, shall accompany the troops of the Government.

ARTICLE III.

As the British troops came here in consequence of my letters and complaints, and have expelled the Khosas, and as my districts and Ryuts will derive great advantage from their exertions, it becomes incumbent on me (as in these arrangements the Bombay Government has expended and will have to expend considerable sums of money) that I should aid in proportion to my means in discharging this expense. I therefore agree to pay an amount yearly in proportion to my means, and as the Government may direct.

The above three Articles shall be duly executed and observed in all respects.

Dated the 24th Rumzan, 1235 Hijree, (or A. D. the 6th July 1820).

The Seal of the Nuwab of Radhunpoor.

(Signed) W. MILES, Captain, and Agent.

Memorandum.—On the 18th February 1822, the amount of tribute to be paid to the British Government by the Radhunpoor State upder Article III. of this Engagement, was fixed at Rs. 17,000 per annum for five years certain.

This engagement continued in force until the year 1825, when the Honorable the Court of Directors not considering the Radhunpoor State able to bear the amount of tribute imposed, it was, by the order of the Bombay Government, remitted in full, on the 26th July of that year. From this period, this State has been free from all pecuniary claims from the British Government.

WARYE.

The connexion of the petty State of Warye with the British Government commenced in the year 1819. Its Chief signed a similar agreement* to that entered into by the Nuwab of Radhunpoor in the year 1820, and again in the year 1826 he became bound by a similar agreement to that which is binding on the Thurad Estate, having, like the other States, been released from paying tribute: this last agreement remains in force to this day.

The criminal jurisdiction of this and all the States subordinate to the Pahlunpoor Superintendency, with the exception of Radhunpoor, is entirely in the hands of the Political Superintendent; and a Mehta, with a detachment of the Gaekwar Horse, resides at Warye, to whom the Chiefs generally refer on every occasion, particularly in disputes with their Bhayad, who pay but little obedience to their Chiefs, and are only kept in order through the authority of the British Government.

HISTORY OF THE REIGNING FAMILY; AGE OF THE PRESENT CHIEF; NAME AND CONDITION OF THE HEIR APPARENT.

Mullek Eesa, the founder of this family, came originally from Sind, about 400 years ago. According to their own statement, they were compelled to quit the country on account of the tyranny of the Chief. They gained possession of the Warye Talooka from the Roma Mussulmans, who were driven out, and their country divided amongst themselves. They are Mussulmans, and termed Jhutts, and are divided into four classes, viz. Mullung, Boobuck, Shureef, and Ispunjar. The Chief of Warye belongs to the Mullung division of the tribe.

They have always been partial to predatory excursions, and, prior to our rule in these parts of Guzerat, were notorious freebooters; plundering in bands the neighbouring country even up to the walls of Ahmedabad, and compelling their weaker neighbours to purchase their forbearance and protection by a money payment known here as "Vol." In the time of Nuwab Shere Khan of Radhunpoor it became necessary to put down their excesses, and by order of the Peshwa Government they were attacked in 1812 and defeated, and their Chief, Ooma Khan, captured and taken prisoner to Radhunpoor, from which place he effected his escape. Arrangements were afterwards made by which Ooma Khan was confirmed in his possessions, and a Sunnud to that effect, bearing date 1815, given to him by the Nuwab. The power of the British Government has put a stop to their predatory excursions, but they are remarkable for their quarrelsome and litigious dispositions. In appearance they are tall, athletic men, and excellent horsemen; they were formerly subordinate to the Nuwabs of Radhunpoor, and, when required, attended with their followers, receiving the usual maintenance; but they now consider themselves independent, and subordinate only to the British Government.

Thakoor Shadad Khan died in 1847, leaving three widows, two of whom were brought to bed of sons eight months after his death. Their legitimacy was contested by the next of kin; but as they were unable to support their assertions by any proofs, their claim was rejected, and, owing to the tender age of the children, the Estate was attached, and all its affairs are now managed by the Political Superintendent.

The eldest boy, Oomer Khan, is about six years old, and is the Chief of Warye; his brother, Hameer Khan, is the next heir, and is also about six years old.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARY; CLIMATE; GENERAL FEATURES; PRODUCTIONS; RIVERS AND ROADS, &c.

Extent and Boundary.—Warye is bounded on the north by the district of Charchut, west by Chorwar, east by Radhunpoor, and south by the Runn. In extent it is about twenty-five miles long and ten broad, and contains an area of 204 square miles, with forty-one villages.

General Features, Soil, and Productions.—A flat, open country, like Radhunpoor. There are three kinds of soil—the sandy, black, and (towards the Runn) saline. The two former produce one crop yearly of the common grains, with a large quantity of excellent wheat, which, like Radhunpoor, is produced from the monsoon rains; nothing is produced from irrigation. A good deal of cotton is also produced; and in the third, Ghusseea or self-produced salt.

Climate.—The same as that of Radhunpoor.

Rivers.—The Bunnass runs through the districts, and empties itself into the Runn; but only fills so far down after very heavy rains in the Aboo and other hills, from whence it takes its rise. There are a great number of tanks, and water is obtained, as at Radhunpoor, by digging in the beds of tanks and streams: the water is only good near the surface.

Roads.—Vide Radhunpoor, page 28 of this Selection.

Principal Towns or Villages.—Warye is the principal village, where the Chief resides. There are no fortified places; all the villages are situated in the plain, without any defence beyond a common hedge of thorns.

Population.—The population consists of about 12,000 souls; of this number, about 2,000 are Mussulman and the remainder Hindoo.

Language.—The language in general use is the Guzerathee, in which all business is transacted.

Revenues.—The district being much divided amongst the kinsmen of the Chief, the average revenue is not more than Rs. 18,000 per annum, which suffices for the Chief's and Bhayad's disbursements. It pays no tribute to any State.

Khalsa	5,000
Bhayad	13,000
		18,000

Contingent —None.

Native Force.—None. The district depends entirely for support on the British Government; but the Chief, by paying for the daily food of the men, can collect about 100 horse and 600 foot, mostly armed with swords, matchlocks, bows and arrows.

Police arrangements.—The same as in the Radhunpoor country. (Vide page 29 of this Selection.)

NOTE.—The Opium Engagement at page 23 is binding on this Estate.

TERWARA.

Terwara is a small district of Koolees. It has the same engagement with the British Government as the Radhunpoor State;* an engagement similar to that which is binding on the Thurad Estate† was also signed by the Chief of Terwara on the 9th December 1826.‡

The same policy is adopted with this Estate as with that of Warye.

HISTORY OF THE TERWARA REIGNING FAMILY.

The Terwara Talooka formerly belonged to the Nuwabs of Radhunpoor. It was wrested from the Waghela Rajpoots by Nuwab Kumaloodeen Khan, who was confirmed in the possession of it by a Sunnud granted by Moobarroosool Mulk, Soobah of Ahmedabad, about A. D. 1715.

* Vide page 31 of this Selection.

† Vide page 39 of this Selection.

‡ Vide also Opium Engagement at page 23.

The family now in possession of Terwara originally came from Sind. From the first they appear to have attached themselves to the Nuwab, serving as simple horsemen; they were probably afterwards employed as Thanadars in keeping the district in order, and doubtless took advantage of the times to benefit themselves at the expense of their master the Nuwab of Radhunpoor. The present possessions were confirmed to Belooch Khan, the father of the present Chief, in A. D. 1822; the Nuwab having failed to attend to disprove the claim, although repeatedly called on to do so by Colonel Miles, the Political Superintendent at Pahlunpoor.

The Talooka formerly consisted of 104 villages; the Bhabhur district, consisting of 20 villages in the possession of a number of Koolce Thakurdas, originally formed part of it. The neighbouring districts of Wao, Warye, Kankruj, and Deodur also took advantage of the anarchy and confusion which prevailed all over this part of the country, about 100 years ago, to appropriate a number of villages, which are now included within their respective Estates. The Talooka now consists of 24 villages.

Thakoor Nathoo Khan of Terwara is now about twenty-eight years of age; he has a son to succeed him.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARY, GENERAL FEATURES, &c.

Extent and Boundary.—North by Deodur, south by Radhunpoor, east by the Kankruj Zilla, and west by Bhabhur. Its extreme length may be fifteen miles and breadth eighteen, and it contains an area of 100 square miles, with twenty-four villages.

Features, Soil, and Productions.—Flat and open, with low jungle here and there. Soil sandy, and occasionally black. Only one crop produced during the year, of common grains: a good deal of land is grazing ground.

Climate.—The cold weather lasts during the months of November, December, January, February, and part of March. During the months of April, May, and June the heat is excessive, the inhabitants suffering from the violent hot winds. The rains in July, August, and September are generally very light.

Rivers.—None; but there are a number of good tanks, on which the inhabitants mostly depend. Water is found from thirty to seventy-five feet deep; towards the north, the water is brackish.

Roads.—Same as Radhunpoor.

Principal Towns or Villages.—Terwara is the principal village, in which the Chief resides. There are no fortified places; the villages being all situated in the plain, surrounded by a common hedge of thorns.

Population.—The population consists of about 4,488 souls; of this number about 140 are Mussulman and the remainder Hindoo.

Language.—Same as Radhunpoor.

Revenues and Disbursements.—Amount equal; average Rs. 2,000 per annum.

Pays no tribute to any State.

Contingent.—None.

Native Force.—None. The district depends entirely for support on the British Government; but the Chief, by paying for the daily food of the men, can collect about 50 horse and 400 foot, mostly armed with swords, matchlocks, bows and arrows.

Police arrangements.—Same as Radhunpoor, &c.

THURAD AND MORWARA.

A HISTORY OF THE LEADING EVENTS WHICH HAVE OCCURRED IN THIS PETTY STATE SINCE ITS FIRST CONNEXION WITH THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT; THE POLICY PURSUED TOWARDS IT, AND THE RESULT, SHOWN; TOGETHER WITH A FULL ACCOUNT OF SUBSISTING TREATIES.

The first connexion of this Estate with the British Government was in A. D. 1819, when, being much harassed by the Khosas and other plunderers from the Desert and nearly depopulated in consequence, it sought for and obtained the aid of the British Government, and, as in the case of the Nuwab of Radhunpoor, voluntarily agreed to pay a share of the expenses of the equipment of a force. In the year 1820, after the Khosas had been expelled, the Chief of Thurad entered into an Agreement similar to that concluded with the Radhunpoor Estate, and on the 14th February 1821 it was decided by the Government, with reference to its last Article, that no tribute should be exacted until the revenue had increased one-half beyond its then amount, when one-third of that increase was to be paid. This remained in force until A. D. 1825, when the State was relieved from paying any tribute whatever, and in 1826 a further Agreement, partly in supersession of the former one, was signed, and delivered to the British Government. This equally applies to all other petty States on the Runn, who, at or about the same time, received the same benefits and entered into the same Agreement.

No State has benefited more from British protection than Thurad. From the earliest periods it had been involved in continual warfare, attacking and plundering its weaker neighbours, and in its turn suffering the same calamities it had so unsparingly inflicted on others. The result of constant anarchy and confusion was to render a population (naturally hardy and warlike) averse to all agricultural pursuits; the country in consequence was neglected even by.

the industrious classes, who, unable to obtain assistance from the Chiefs, deserted the districts in large numbers, seeking shelter wherever life and property were more secure. These remarks apply equally to all the districts bordering on Marwar and the Runn of Kutch.

The arrangements made by Government to put a stop to the inroads of the Khosas (a tribe of Sindee marauders), as well as the efficient assistance and protection afforded by the British Government to these petty Chiefs, speedily restored confidence, and within four or five years after the agreements had been entered into, 198 villages had been re-peopled, and Lieutenant-Colonel Miles, the Political Agent, in reporting on their condition, observes that "they have improved beyond expectation; they have abandoned their mode of life, have become industrious cultivators of the soil, and have conducted themselves (to the surprise of all their neighbours) in a most peaceable and orderly manner."

Thanas of Gaekwar Horse are placed along the northern and western frontier to preserve the tranquillity of the districts; robberies are very scarce; and the population, principally Rajpoots, and, as formerly stated, much addicted to predatory excursions, are now peaceful cultivators of the soil.

The same system of policy is adopted towards this Estate as towards the States of Warye, &c.

HISTORY OF THE REIGNING FAMILY; AGE OF THE PRESENT CHIEF; NAME AND CONDITION OF THE THEIR APPARENT.

The family now in possession of both districts claims kindred with the former Waghela Rajpoots of Puttun; they occupied successively Sirdarghur and Ghare in Wagur (Kutch), whence they were expelled by the Jhareeja Rajpoots, and, about A. D. 1508, obtained possession of Morwara from the Chowra Rajpoots.

The Thurad Talooka was a dependency of Puttun. It first fell into the hands of the Chowan Rajpoots on their expulsion from Marwar; they in their turn were driven out by the Rathores of Jodhpoor, who were succeeded by the Mahomedans, when Thurad became subordinate to the Soobah of Guzerat and was managed by a Deputy from Ahmedabad.

In A. D. 1723 Thurad was given in Jageer to Shere Juwan Murd Khan, Babee of Radhunpoor, but four years afterwards he was displaced, and a Deputy appointed in the Soobehdaree of Abhaee Sing. In A. D. 1736 the Chowan Thakoor of Dheema (Wao), Jeet Mull, gained possession of Thurad, but was driven out the next year by Dewan Bahadoor Khan of Pahlunpoor. In 1740 Nuwab Kumaloodeen Khan Babee recovered Thurad from Bahadoor Khan, and retained possession of it until A. D. 1759, when it was given in charge to Waghela Kahanjee, Chief of Morwara, a man of much ability and energy, who had attached himself to the fortunes of Kumalooddeen Khan Babee. He died in A. D. 1786, and was succeeded by his brother, Hurbhunjee, and in 1823 by the present Chief, Kurrun Sing.

The Nuwab of Radhunpoor, on the authority of the Sunnud granted to him in A. D. 1727, disputes the right of the Chief of Morwara to retain Thurad ; but as he (Kurrun Sing) was found in possession of the district when our first connection with these Chiefs took place in 1819, his right has been acknowledged by the Bombay Government.

Thakoor Kurrun Sing is an old and imbecile man, of about seventy-three years of age ; he has two sons, of whom Kumajee, about fifty-five years of age, is heir apparent. He is from weakness of intellect unfit to succeed to the Gadee, but his son Kengarjee, eighteen years old, is very intelligent, and will doubtless succeed on the death of his grandfather Kurrun Sing.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARY OF THE DISTRICTS ; A BRIEF ACCOUNT OF THE CLIMATE AND GENERAL FEATURES OF THE COUNTRY ; PRODUCTIONS ; ALSO THE RIVERS AND ROADS WHICH PASS THROUGH IT, &c.

Extent and Boundary.—It extends from north to south about thirty-five miles, and from east to west about twenty-five miles. It is bounded on the north by the Marwar district of Sachore, south by that of Bhabhur Thurad 104 and Terwara; east by Pahlunpoor and Deodur, and Morwara 9 west by that of Wao ; it possesses an area of 644 square
 113 miles, and contains 113 villages.

General Features, Soil, and Productions.—The district is a flat sandy plain, covered here and there with low jungle. The soil being sandy, produces only one crop yearly ; a little black soil here and there near the villages. Nothing is produced beyond the common grains, such as Bajree, Jowaree, Muth, Kooree, Buntée, Theel, &c., and these crops depend entirely on the monsoon ; nothing is produced from irrigation owing to the great depth of the wells. Water is never found under 75 feet, and ranges from that to 120 feet ; brackish water is often met with, but it is drinkable.

Climate.—The cold weather lasts during the months of November, December, January, February, and part of March : during the months of April, May, and June the heat is excessive, the inhabitants suffering from the violent hot winds. The rains in July, August, and September are generally very light.

Rivers.—None ; but there are numerous tanks, which in average seasons retain water till March, when the inhabitants depend on their wells.

Roads.—One of the high roads from Hindoostan and Pallee to the Dholera and Mandvee Bunders passes through the district, from which the Chief derives some small revenue.

There are no made roads, but the ground is free from sand, and in consequence carts travel with great facility throughout the districts.

Principal Towns or Villages.—There is no fortified place within these districts; the villages are all situated in the plain, without any defence beyond a common hedge of thorns. The Chief resides at Thurad.

Thurad	22,000	Population. —Amounts to about 27,000 souls; of this number 1,100 are Mussulmans, and the remainder Hindoos.
Morwara	5,000
	<hr/> 27,000

Language in general use is the Guzerathee, in which all business is transacted.

Thurad	16,000	Revenues. —The revenues of Thurad, including the small district of Morwara, also belonging to the Chief, average yearly about Rs. 21,000.
Morwara	5,000
	<hr/> 21,000

It became necessary, two years ago, to appoint a Karbaree, at the request of the Chief, to take care of the revenues of the State, which, from the untrustworthiness of the servants of the Thakoor, had become embarrassed, and were insufficient to meet the common expenses of the Durbar. A Banker has been established, and the proceeds are regularly paid into his hands. The receipts now exceed the expenditure, the surplus being disposed of in paying off the debts of the Estate. Thurad pays no tribute of any kind to any Government.

Contingent Corps.—None.

Native Force.—The Chief merely entertains about fifty horse and sixty foot for his own personal protection.

These districts depend entirely for support on the British Government. The Chief, by paying for the daily food of the men, can also collect about 250 horse and 1,200 foot, mostly Koolcees, all armed with swords, matchlocks, bows and arrows.

Police arrangements.—The same as Radhunpoor.

Agreement with the British Government, entered into by the Thakoor of Thurad, and other Chiefs on the Runn, on the 23rd August 1826.

Whereas, in the hope of protection from the injuries inflicted on our district by the Khosas, Koolcees, and others, and advancing the prosperity of our Purgunas, a Bond of Agreement with the British Government was executed by Vide also Opium Engagement at page 23, which is binding on this Estate.

us, dated 15th Margseer, Sumvut 1878, in the third paragraph of which we stipulated to pay, to the extent of our means, our proportion of the expenses incurred in preventing the inroads of the Khosas or any other marauders, and to pay our quota yearly, in conformity to which engagement we have until now guided ourselves by the instructions of the British Government; but now that the British Government in its great goodness is pleased to cancel the above obligation on our part to pay such necessary expenses incurred for our benefit, we are deeply grateful for the same, and bind ourselves for the future by the following engagements:—

ARTICLE I.

We promise to conform ourselves in every respect to our former Agreement with the British Government, with the exception of the 3rd paragraph respecting our payments therein stipulated to be by us paid, and to conduct ourselves as faithful dependants on the British Government.

ARTICLE II.

The Kooles, Rajpoots, or armed men of other districts, who may come peaceably and with the intention of residing quietly in our Talookas, shall not be licensed to remain without their so coming being communicated to the British Government; and in case security for their good conduct, and bail for their appearance when called for, should be required by the British Government, it shall be demanded from them; nor shall they in such case be allowed to remain without consenting thereto.

ARTICLE III.

The ancient obligations existing previous to the abovementioned Treaty, betwixt us and the British Government and the Baroda Government, shall remain in full force as heretofore; we will in every respect guide ourselves in conformity thereto:

ARTICLE IV.

We will in no respect permit robbers or disturbers of the public peace to find shelter in our districts or any dependencies of ours, and when claimed by either the British or Baroda Governments, we will deliver them up if they fall into our power.

ARTICLE V.

Whenever the British forces proceed for the suppression of robbers, Bharwtias or Khosas, we will prepare all the means in our power, of horse and foot, in aid of the British armament, and send the ablest of our people with them, as becomes obedient dependants on the British Government; and the person in charge of our Contingent shall be placed under the authority of the Commandant of the British force.

ARTICLE VI.

The Talookdars or petty Chieftains shall on no account wage private wars or disturb the public peace by mutual discords; in case of such quarrels, the same shall be communicated to the British Government, and the decision of its authority to be final.

ARTICLE VII.

We will not avail ourselves of the weakness or poverty of any village or landholders to extort Geeras or any other rights; and when any village offers to bind itself to dependency or tribute, we promise not to accede to such arrangement without the knowledge and approval of Government.

ARTICLE VIII.

The Koolees, Rajpoots, and others, in fact any inhabitant of our villages shall in no respect be permitted to commit any irregularities in the districts of the British or Baroda Governments or any other dependencies; and we are responsible for their misdemeanors. Such are the eight Articles of our Agreement, and we will act in conformity thereto, and if we are ever found departing from this engagement, we are answerable to make good the claims instituted and pay such fine as shall be ordered by Government, submitting ourselves to its decision.

WAO.

The history of the petty district of Wao, from its first connexion with the British Government, differs little from that of Thurad.

Harassed by the Khosas and other marauders, this Estate, in the year 1819, sought and received the aid of the British Government, and in the following year (A. D. 1820) became bound by the same agreement as that concluded with the Radhunpoor State,* the tribute being fixed as stated in the history of Thurad. In A. D. 1826, being released from this tribute, the Chief signed, on the 29th August in that year, a similar agreement to that concluded with the Thurad Estate,† which remains in force to this day.‡

The same policy is in force with this Estate as with Warye.

HISTORY OF THE REIGNING FAMILY; AGE OF THE PRESENT CHIEF; NAME AND CONDITION OF THE HEIR APPARENT.

This family originally came from Sembhur and Nandole in Marwar, and claims kindred with the Chowan King of Delhi, Prithiraj, who was defeated and slain by the Affghans in A. D. 1193. After various vicissitudes of fortune, Dedh Rao was driven out of Nandole, and obtained possession of Thurad, then subordinate to the Rajpoot dynasty reigning at Puttun. Rana Poonja, the seventh in descent from Dedh Rao, was killed in battle, and the Talooka recovered from the Chowans. Rana Wuza, the son of Poonja, built the Town of Wao. The present Rana is the seventeenth in descent from Rana Poonja.

The Wao Talooka formerly consisted of fifty-five villages, but now only thirty-five remain. From its proximity to Thurad, a great number of its border villages were compelled to pay Jumabundee to the Rathores of Jodhpoor, and to the Mussulman authorities as they successively obtained authority over the district. In the settlement which was effected by Colonel Miles in A. D. 1820-21, these villages, about twenty in number, were transferred to the Thurad and other Talookas.

The principal part of the Wao population is composed of Rajpoots, who were formerly notorious for their marauding habits, and for the assistance they afforded the Khosas in their incursions in the north-western parts of Guzerat. They acknowledge the Rana as their nominal Chief, but pay him very little respect; he is quite unable to keep them in control, and at his own request a Mehta is kept up, through whom, acting under the orders of the Political Superintendent, the State is managed.

Rana Sirdar Sing is now about thirty-two years of age; he has a son, named Oomed Sing, six years old. No peculiarity exists in respect to the order of succession.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARY, GENERAL FEATURES, &c.

Extent and Boundary.—It extends from north to south about thirty-five miles, and from east to west fifteen miles; it is bounded on the north by Sachore in Marwar, south by Soogaum, east by Thurad, and west by the Runn; it possesses an area of 360 square miles, and contains thirty-five villages.

General Features, Soil, and Production.—Like Thurad, a flat sandy plain, with the exception of its western boundary, where the soil is hard and clayey. Only one crop is produced during the year, of the common grains. Ghusseea, or self-produced salt, is collected in large quantities in all the pans in the Runn, but it is not allowed to be exported. There are several wells, and water is plentiful, and obtained from nine feet to forty, but is generally brackish. Nothing is produced from irrigation.

Climate.—The same as that of Radhunpoor.

Rivers.—None; but there are some tanks, which in average seasons retain water till March, when the inhabitants depend on their wells.

Population.—The population consists of about 13,000 souls, principally Chowan Rajpoots.

Language.—The same as Radhunpoor (Guzerathee).

Revenues and Disbursements.—Average only about Rs. 8,600 per annum,

The Chief, by paying for the daily food of the men, can also collect from his different villages about 150 horse and 1,000 foot, mostly Rajpoots, all armed with swords, matchlocks, bows and arrows.

Police arrangements.—The same as Radhunpoor, &c.

SOOEGAUM.

A petty district of Chowan Rajpoots. Similar Agreements to those inserted at pages 31 and 39 of this Selection were signed by the Chief, the last (and one now in force) on the 7th August 1826.* The same policy is adopted towards this Estate as towards that of Warye.

HISTORY OF THE REIGNING FAMILY.

Brethren of the Rana of Wao. It was bestowed on Puchanjee, the youngest son of Rana Sangajee, about 400 years ago, and, like Wao, is subdivided amongst a numerous Bhayad, all independent of each other. Like their brethren of Wao, they were noted freebooters, and gave every assistance to the Khosas in their incursions in these parts; but since the agreement entered into with Colonel Miles in 1826, they have become peaceful cultivators of the soil. Thakoors Tymuljee and Bhugwanjee are the two principal Chiefs of Sooeaum, to whom the others pay a nominal obedience. Thakoor Tymul is sixty-five years of age, and Thakoor Bhugwanjee is sixty years of age; they have sons to succeed them.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARY, GENERAL FEATURES, &c.

Bounded on the west by the Runn, east and north by Wao, and south by Charchut. It is about twenty miles long by eight miles broad; it possesses an area of 161 square miles, and contains fifteen villages.

* The Opium Engagement inserted at page 23 of this Selection is also binding on this Estate.

General Features, Soil, and Productions.—Flat and open. The soil is both sandy and saline, producing but poor crops, and those only of the common grains. Ghusseea, or self-produced salt, is produced on the Wunn side in large quantities. Water brackish and not plentiful, and is found at fifteen feet deep.

Climate.—The same as that of Radhunpoor.

Rivers.—None; but there are numerous tanks, which in average seasons retain water till March, when the inhabitants depend on their wells.

Roads.—There are no made roads, but the ground is free from sand, and in consequence carts travel with great facility throughout the district.

Principal Towns or Villages.—The principal village is Sooeaum, where the Chiefs reside. There are no fortified places; all the villages are situated in the plains, without any defence beyond a common hedge of thorns.

Population.—The population consists of about 5,813 souls, principally Rajpoots.

Language in general use is the Guzerathee, in which all business is transacted.

Revenue and Disbursements.—About equal, and average Rs. 5,500 per annum. It pays no tribute to any Government.

Contingent.—None.

Native Force.—None. The district depends entirely for support on the British Government; but the Chiefs, by paying for the daily food of the men, can collect from their different villages about 40 horse and 400 foot, mostly armed with swords, matchlocks, bows and arrows, all Chowan Rajpoots.

Police arrangements.—The same as Radhunpoor, &c

DEODUR.

This is a small district of Waghela Rajpoots. Similar agreements to those inserted at pages 31 and 39 of this Selection were signed by the Chiefs; the last, and the one now in force, was signed by them on the 29th October 1826.*

The same policy is adopted towards this Estate as towards that of Warye.

HISTORY OF THE REIGNING FAMILY.

A small district in the possession of a younger branch of the Thurad Waghelas. On the subversion of the Rajpoot authority in Puttun, Bheelree (now under Pahlunpoor) was occupied, and remained for some generations in their possession. Driven out of this by the Mahomedan power, they successively occupied Summao in Kankruj, Moonjpoor (now under Radhunpoor), and afterwards Terwara; being again obliged to yield to the Mussulmans, they obtained possession of the Deodur district.

The Deodur district formerly consisted of eighty-four villages, but now not more than half that number remain to the family, many of the remaining villages having been taken possession of by the Kankruj and Bhabhur Koolees. In the famine of A. D. 1786 the district was deserted, the Chief with his family seeking a maintenance elsewhere. One of the Bhayad, Poonjajee, took service with the Nuwab of Radhunpoor, and having given much satisfaction, was assisted by the Nuwab in recovering possession of the Deodur district from the Koolees, who had possessed themselves of it on the departure of the Waghelas. Poonjajee at considerable expense re-established some of the villages, and, in the absence of the elder branch, usurped its rights, and refused to restore them on the return of the Chief. The complaint was brought before Colonel Miles in A. D. 1828, but as the usurpation was antecedent to our authority in this part of Guzerat, it could not be interfered with, and that gentleman contented himself with providing a maintenance, through a Punchayet, for the complainant. The district is now shared by the two sons of Poonjajee, who are considered the Chiefs of Deodur, in supersession of the elder branch.

Thakoors Akhesing and Chandajee are the two principal Chiefs of Deodur, to whom the others pay a nominal obedience. Thakoor Akhesing is seventy-five years of age, and Thakoor Chandajee seventy years of age; the former has one son, and the latter five sons.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARY, GENERAL FEATURES, &c.

Extent and Boundary.—It is bounded on the north by Thurad, south by Bhabhur and Terwara, east by the Kankruj, and west by Soogaum. In extent it is about twelve miles long, and twenty-five miles broad; it possesses an area of 240 square miles, and contains forty-six villages.

General Features, Soil, and Productions.—Flat plain, sandy throughout, and producing only one crop of the common grains yearly; low jungle here and there.

Climate.—The same as Radhunpoor.

Rivers.—None; but there are numerous tanks, which in average seasons retain water till March, when the inhabitants depend on their wells. Water is found from forty to sixty feet deep.

Roads.—The same as Radhunpoor.

Principal Towns or Villages.—Deodur is the principal village, where the Chiefs reside. There are no fortified places; all the villages are situated in the plain, without any defence beyond a common hedge of thorns.

Population.—The population consists of about 9,000 souls, principally Rajpoots and Koolees.

Language.—Same as Radhunpoor (Guzerathee).

Revenues and Disbursements.—The revenues average about Rs. 5,000 per annum, and the disbursements equal the amount of the revenue. It pays no tribute to any Government.

Contingent.—None.

Native Force.—None. The district depends entirely for support on the British Government; but the Chiefs, by paying for the daily food of the men, can collect from their different villages about 70 horse and 600 foot, mostly armed with swords and matchlocks, and with bows and arrows.

Police arrangements.—Same as Radhunpoor, &c.

CHORWAR (OR SANTULPOOR) AND CHARCHUT.

These are petty districts of Jhareeja Rajpoots. Similar Agreements to those inserted at pages 31 and 39 of this Selection were signed by the Chiefs, the last (and the one now in force) is dated 3rd January 1827.*

The same policy is adopted towards these districts as towards the Warye Estate.

HISTORY OF THE REIGNING FAMILY.

Jhareeja Rajpoots, and brethren of the Rao of Kutch. The Waghela Rajpoots had formerly possession of Santulpoor, but were driven out by the Jhareejas about 350 years ago.

These petty districts are divided amongst a number of Chieftains, the principal of whom are Nathajee, and Gugjee an infant.

Nathajee is sixty years old. He has two sons, Runmuljee twenty-five years of age, and Daveesing fifteen years of age.

EXTENT AND BOUNDARY, GENERAL FEATURES, &c.

Extent and Boundary.—During the rains, when the Runn fills, Chorwar is almost an island. It is bounded north and south by Sooggaum, east by Warye, and west by Kutch; it is about thirty-seven miles long, and seventeen miles broad; it possesses an area of 440 square miles, and contains thirty-three villages.

General Features, Soil, and Productions.—Flat and open. There are three different kinds of soil—clayey, sandy, and black; but these only produce one crop of the common grains during the year. Ghusseea, or self-produced salt, is found in large quantities.

* Vide Note to page 44.

Climate.—The same as Radhunpoor.

Rivers.—None; but there are numerous tanks, which in average seasons retain water till March, when the inhabitants depend on their wells. Water is found from five to twenty feet deep.

Roads.—The same as Radhunpoor.

Principal Towns or Villages.—Santulpoor is the principal village, where the Chiefs reside. There are no fortified places; all the villages are situated in the plain, without any defence beyond a common hedge of thorns.

Population.—The population consists of about 12,000 souls, principally Ahers and Rajpoots.

Language.—Same as Radhunpoor.

Santulpoor..	10,000	Revenues and Disbursements. —The former average only about Rs. 13,000 per annum, and the latter about the same amount. It pays no tribute to any Government.
Charchut ..	3,000
	13,000

Contingent.—None.

Native Force.—The Chiefs merely entertain about 15 horse and foot for their own personal protection, trusting entirely to the British Government for protection from foreign invasion; but they, by paying for the daily food of the men, can collect about 80 horse and 400 foot, mostly Rajpoots, all armed with swords and matchlocks. The Ahers do not belong to a warlike tribe.

Police arrangements.—Same as Radhunpoor, &c.

BHABHUR.

The first British connexion with the petty district of Bhabhur took place in the year 1820, when the Chiefs signed the Agreement inserted at page 31 of this Selection, and subsequently that entered at page 39 on the 30th December 1826, and which is now in force.

Owing to the very indifferent character of the inhabitants of this district, a very minute degree of supervision is exercised by the Superintendent. The Chiefs cannot be trusted with the exercise of any authority whatever.

This district, consisting of seventeen villages, was farmed out of the Terwara Talooka by Rathore Hatheejee of Kankruj, who, in A. D. 1742, took advantage of the anarchy and confusion prevailing in this part of Guzerat, to establish the village of Bhabhur, and by degrees to obtain possession of the deserted lands of Terwara, which now form the district.

There are two nominal Chiefs, viz. Maljee of Joonawas, who is considered the head Koolee Thakurda of eleven villages, and Thakurda Sugram of Nowawas, of six villages; but all the villages are divided and again subdivided amongst a numerous Bhayad, who, from their original connexion with the parent stem, consider themselves independent of each other, and submit to no control from the senior branches.

Extent and Boundary.—It is bounded on the north by Deodur, south and east by Terwara, and west by Soogaum and Thurad. In extent it is about ten miles long and nine miles broad. It possesses an area of seventy-two square miles, and contains seventeen villages.

General Features, Soil, and Productions.—A flat country, with a great deal of jungle. Soil principally sandy, and producing only one crop of the common grains yearly. Nothing is produced from irrigation.

Climate.—The same as Pahlunpoor.

Rivers.—None; but there are some tanks, which in average seasons retain water till March, when the inhabitants depend on their wells. Water is found from thirty to fifty feet deep.

Roads.—The same as Radhunpoor.

Principal Towns and Villages.—None of the villages are of any size or deserving of notice. There are no fortified places. All the villages are situated in the plain, without any defence beyond a common hedge of thorns.

Population.—The population consists of about 2,000 souls, almost exclusively Koolees.

Language.—Guzeratee.

Revenues and Disbursements.—About equal, and average Rs. 800 per annum. It pays no tribute to any Government.

Contingent.—None.

Native Force.—None; but the Chiefs, by paying for the daily food of the men, can collect about 20 horse and 500 foot, mostly Koolees, all armed with swords and matchlocks, and with bows and arrows.

Police arrangements.—The same as Radhunpoor, &c.

KANKRUJ.

The criminal jurisdiction of this district is entirely in the hands of the Political Superintendent at Pahlunpoor. A Government Mehta resides at Seoree, and through him all the affairs of the district are managed.

This district was formerly subordinate to the Mahee Kanta Agency, but, owing to its proximity to Pahlunpoor, it was transferred to this Superintendency in A. D. 1844. Our first connection with this petty State took place in 1819-20, when the Mahee Kanta Agency was formed.

This district is situated on the eastern and western banks of the Bunnass river, and contains 62 villages, all of which (with the exception of "Thurra," which is under a Rajpoot Chief, and consists of 25 villages) are in the possession of Koolee Chiefs, formerly of Rajpoot origin, but who have lost caste by intermarriages with Koolee women.

The Thurra Chief is also of Koolee origin ; but five generations ago, the then Koolee Thakoor of Thurra, Jewajee, by affecting the Rajpoot dress and manners, and separating himself from his own connexions, eventually was received into the Rajpoot tribe, and the family now, notwithstanding their undoubted Koolee origin, experiences no difficulty in procuring wives from the poorer Rajpoot families.

This district is subdivided as follows :—

Putta of Thurra, 25 villages, shared as follows :

15 villages between Juswut Sing wulud Maha Sing, Ajeet Sing wulud Jalum Sing, and Koonvur Akheraj.

8 villages between the above and the Chiefs of Wurra.

2 villages between ditto and the Chiefs of Ranukpoor.

Putta of Oon, 7 villages, shared between Prithiraj wulud Ruttun Sing and Hamerjee wulud Bheemajee.

Putta of Wurra, 5 villages, shared between Bunnajee wulud Dolajee and Sowajee wulud Hatheejee.

Putta of Bhulgaum, 3 villages, shared between Adey Sing wulud Chandajee and Ram Sing wulud Muggajee.

Putta of Ranukpoor, 3 villages, shared between Lalajee wulud Subbul Sing and Adey Sing.

7 villages given in charity to the Bramins, Bhats, and Gossacns.

The remaining 12 villages are divided and subdivided amongst a numerous Bhayad, all independent of each other, and acknowledging obedience to no power but that of the British Government.

They have been notorious thieves from the earliest times, but since the establishment of the Agency at Pahlunpoor and the rigid enforcement of village responsibility (for no excuse is received, and every village in which an offence has been committed must, in the event of not being able to trace out the offender to another village, be answerable for the crimes) serious offences have greatly decreased, although petty thefts, particularly of cattle, are common enough.

The number of boundary disputes which of late years have sprung up amongst the Koolee population, is a satisfactory proof that the possession of land is much more appreciated by them now than formerly. A few years ago the cultivation was confined to the immediate neighbourhood of the villages, the rest of the land being waste and covered with thick jungle; and so unsafe were the roads, that no traveller without escorts would venture to pass through the country. All this has since changed; the jungle is rapidly diminishing, and cultivation extending in all parts; travellers, and merchants with valuable property, pass through without escorts, and are seldom molested : the feeling of security is so great, that, in alighting at villages, the common precaution of procuring a village watchman to protect their property during the night is frequently neglected, without advantage being taken of this neglect by the Koolees of the district. The above remarks apply equally to the district of Badur, an off-shoot from Kankruj.

BOUNDARY, GENERAL FEATURES, CLIMATE, &c.

Extent and Boundary.—The Kankruj Estate is bounded on the north by Pahlunpoor, east by the Gaekwar districts, south by Radhunpoor, and west by Terwara and Deodur. It is about thirty miles long, and its greatest breadth is about the same ; it possesses an area of 507 square miles, and contains sixty-two villages.

General Features, Soil, and Productions.—A flat open country, tolerably wooded, and situated on both sides of the Bunnass river. There are two sorts of soil, sandy and black. It produces the usual monsoon crops, as well as those from irrigation.

Climate.—The same as Pahlunpoor.

Rivers.—The Bunnass river runs through the district, but is usually dry in the hot weather. The inhabitants depend on their wells for drinking water. Water is abundant throughout, and is found at twenty-five feet deep.

Roads.—There are no made roads, but the ground is tolerably free from sand, and in consequence carts travel with great facility throughout the district.

Principal Towns or Villages.—None of the villages are of any size or deserving of notice. There are no fortified places ; all the villages are situated in the plain, without any defence beyond a common hedge of thorns. A large number of the Gaekwar Horse are stationed in the different villages to keep the peace.

Population.—The population consists of about 12,945 souls, almost exclusively Koolees.

Language in general use is the Guzerathee, in which all business is transacted.

Revenues and Disbursements.—Average only about Rs. 18,000 per annum ; the disbursements about the same amount.

It pays Sicca Rs. 6,006-10-0, or Company's Rs. 5,592-15-4, the amount of Ghansdana and Jumabundee tribute, to the Gaekwar.

Contingent.—None.

Native Force.—None. The district depends entirely for support on the British Government ; but the Chiefs, by paying for the daily food of the men, can collect about, 150 horse and 2,000 foot, mostly Koolees, all armed with swords, matchlocks, bows and arrows.

Police arrangements.—The same as Radhunpoor, &c.

It possesses an area of 2,384 square miles.
Prevailing Nature of the Soil, usual Means of Irrigation, and General Features of the Country.	VII. To the north and west the soil is poor and sandy, generally producing but one crop during the season; south and east it is a rich black soil, allowing of three crops, viz. Wursaloo, Oonaloo, and Rubee, being produced during the year.

* Futteh Khan died on the 11th July 1854, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Zorawur Khan.—Editor.

For the Wursaloo, or monsoon crops, slight rain is sufficient, but for the two latter heavy rain is necessary, when the yield is very abundant. Grain of all sorts is produced, with a very superior description of rice, which is much sought after by the wealthy inhabitants of Marwar and Radhunpoor. Large supplies of grain are yearly imported into Marwar and Sirohee, and in years of scarcity the inhabitants of these countries depend for their supplies of grain on the Pahlunpoor districts. Water was, it is said, formerly much more plentiful and procurable much nearer to the surface than at present; the average depth at which it is now found is about eighty feet. The usual mode of irrigation is by raising up water in a leathern bag (Kos*) into a reservoir, whence it is conducted by channels to wherever it may be required: the Persian wheel is only used in gardens. The country south and east is undulating, and tolerably well covered with trees. Towards the north and north-east it is very mountainous, and covered with jungle; the villages are far apart, and generally poor and small; the hills afford excellent pasturage ground, and much useful timber for building purposes is procured out of them. North-west, where it abuts on Marwar and Thurad, the country is a level plain.

VIII. The Banyan population carries on a trade with Pallec in Marwar, Dhollera, Ahmedabad, and Radhunpoor. From Marwar, opium, and coarse cloths for the use of the lower orders, are imported: from Dhollera Bunder, Europe cloths, spices, &c. &c. are procured: from Ahmedabad, velvets, kinkobs, silks, and a fine description of cloths worn by men and women; but of late years the trade in these cloths has much diminished, Europe cloths being in request, and worn by all except the labouring classes: from Radhunpoor raw cotton in large quantities is imported for the use of the inhabitants.

The only exports are grain, ghee, oil (Theel and Sursao), and a coarse cloth, termed Cadee, which is fabricated by the Dhers of the villages, and largely imported into Katteewar, &c.

The Native artificers are very indifferent workmen; indeed the system of free labour which obtains here to a great extent, and which the Political Superintendent has tried in vain to keep down, is fatal to any development of Native skill. A clever artisan finds it to his interest to conceal his ability, as any display of it would increase the demand upon him of free labour from the Dewan and others entitled to it, and which, according to the customs of the country, he cannot refuse to perform. The best workmen are the ironsmiths; they manufacture very fair swords, knives, and spear-heads, but are very inferior to the workmen in Kutch and other places.

poor districts, also from Ahmedabad to Nusseerabad, Ajmeer, Delhi, Agra, &c. via Deesa, which is situated about eighteen miles west of the Town of Pahlunpoor.

It is accessible on all sides; and although there are no made roads owing to the heaviness of the sand, communication with all the bordering districts by the common village roads is free and open, except in the rains, when the freshes in the Bunnass and other rivers occasionally impede communication. From its inland position it has no water communication.

X. The climate is dry and hot: the cold weather scarcely lasts two months,

Climate, and Average
Range of Thermometer.

December and January being generally the two coldest months. The months of April, May, and June, and until the rains fall, are very hot; the two last in particular are scarcely endurable. July and August are pleasant if the rain falls, but otherwise extremely warm. In September and October the rays of the sun are very powerful, and about the end of September fever shows itself, and lasts until the cold weather fairly sets in, which seldom takes place before December.

The following is the maximum and mean range of the thermometer for the twelve months in the year:—

appear till the middle of July; they set in with the usual storm of thunder and lightning, but very much modified in violence to what it is on the coast. July and August are the two heaviest months; little rain falls in September, and about the middle of that month the monsoon passes away with a slight thunder storm. Heavy rain is not required in September, and a fall of a few hours is quite sufficient to ensure a plentiful harvest, and prepare the ground for the after crops. The average fall of rain is about eighteen inches.

Language.

Guzerathee, in which language also all the records are kept.

The Mussulmans are divided into three classes, viz. Syud, Patan, and Sheikh.

Tribes and Castes.

The Patans, to which caste the Dewan belongs, are all of Affghan origin; the Syuds and Sheikhs are from Hindoostan, and most of the ancestors of the families now in existence accompanied Dewan Kumal Khan to Pahlunpoor when driven out of Jhalore by the Rathores in A. D. 1698. It is customary amongst the Sheikhs, to distinguish them from others, to prefix the name of the country from which they have originally come; for instance, those from Behar, Nagore, and Mundore are known as Beharee, Nagoree, and Mundoree Mussulmans; others again, of Rajpoot origin, are known by the name of their former tribe, viz. Toer, Purmar, Chowra, Rathore, Bhattee, &c. which is invariably prefixed to their names, as Toer Azum Khan, &c. There are a few Arab, Sindee, Belooch, and Mukranee families, but they are all of late standing, having been entertained as mercenary Sepoys within the last fifty years. Besides the above, there are three other classes of Mussulmans, viz. Borah, Mehman, and Mohman. The first originally came from Arabia; they speak Arabic, and are able to read and write in that language: the Mehmans are descended from the Lohana Banyans of Sind. Both these castes are industrious shopkeepers, and the Borahs in particular, having fewer prejudices than the Banyan shopkeepers, do not object to reside alone in the distant border Bheel villages, supplying the inhabitants with what they require; they possess much influence over the Bheels, and are known to be receivers of the stolen property obtained by the Bheels in their predatory excursions.

The Mohmans are descended from the Koonbee or cultivating classes; they are most industrious cultivators, are generally in good circumstances, and, from their intelligence, are held in great respect by the community.

The Hindoo population is composed of the three following castes, viz. Bramin, Ksh'tree, and Sûder.

The Bramin community is divided into the following castes, viz :—

- | | |
|---------------------|--------------------|
| 1, Owdich Bramin. | 4, Meywara Bramin. |
| 2, Suhusra Owdich. | 5, Onewal Bramin. |
| 3, Sirmalee Bramin. | |

The greater part of these are cultivators of the soil, and, from not being particular in the observances of their religion, are not held in much respect as Bramins; others take service, and the remainder follow the duties of priests, spiritual instructors, schoolmasters, &c.

Tuppoduns form a sixth class of Bramins. They lost caste by intermarrying with women of other castes; they now form a separate section of the class, and are usually employed as Chobdars; they are also expert bricklayers.

The Ksh'tree is divided into the following castes, viz. Rajpoot and Banyan. The Rajpoot class comprises the following tribes:—

1, Purmar.	5, Waghela.	9, Rana.
2, Solunkhi.	6, Chowan.	10, Jhalla.
3, Goel.	7, Rathore.	11, Deora.
4, Chowra.	8, Diale.

They are all landed proprietors, many of them being Chiefs of Talookas, with a numerous Bhayad in enjoyment of villages, lands, &c. Many of these Chiefs formerly belonged to Sirohee, but being unable to obtain assistance from their own sovereign, applied to Pahlunpoor, and wrote over shares in their possession to the Dewan. The poorer classes take service as Sepoys, &c.

The Banyan caste is divided into the following classes, viz:—

1, Veesa Sirmalee.	5, Pancha.
2, Ooswal.	6, Wussawul	} Nagra Banyans.
3, Pirwal.	7, Dussawul
4, Dussa Sirmalee.

This caste, from its wealth and intelligence, possesses great influence in the country. The principal men of the tribe are Shroffs, merchants, and money-lenders; the poorer, retail shopkeepers. The Karbarees and Mehtas in the employ of this Durbar, and of all the Chiefs in the country, mostly belong to this caste; and, as the Thakoors are from their habits and want of education unfitted to transact business, the whole management of affairs is left in their hands.

The following divisions of caste are included in the Sûder:—

The Koonbees are divided into three classes, viz. Leora, Anjuna, and Kurwa:

1. The Leora Koonbees are a most industrious race of cultivators, and are much respected by the community. The practice of female infanticide is said to exist in this caste; but no case has been known to have occurred within the Pahlunpoor districts. •

2. The Anjuna Koonbees are of Rajpoot origin, eat meat, and are partial to spirits; they are dissipated in their habits, and indifferent cultivators, and are in consequence but little respected.

3. The Kurwa Koonbees are, like the Leora Koonbees, very industrious cultivators. In this caste marriages only occur once in ten or twelve years, and as it is considered disgraceful to possess a grown up daughter unmarried, the parents take care to avoid this disgrace by marrying their children, however young, even a few days after birth, when the time for the marriages of the caste arrives.

Bhats and Charuns.—Bankers, money-lenders, genealogists, and constant attendants at all ceremonies, where they obtain money by singing the praises of the principal people. They also act as securities for Chiefs and others, and are in this respect a very useful class; they are much respected by the Hindoo community, particularly by the Rajpoots and Koolee Thakurdas. Every Rajpoot or Koolee Chief has his family Bhat, who keeps a record of the genealogy of the family, and to whom references are made when disputes with regard to consanguinity are concerned. All information afforded by them is so exaggerated, that much caution in receiving it must be exercised.

Turghalla.—Originally of Bramin origin, but now form a separate class; they are itinerant players, imitators of animals, &c., and are always found at fairs, or where large concourses of people assemble.

Bhan.—Like the Turghallas, itinerant players, &c.; but they are great extortionists, and through abuse, or pretending to inflict personal injury on themselves, obtain presents of money, &c. from the more timid of the community.

Gossaens, Wurgees, Ateeths, Suneasees, &c. &c.—Religious wandering mendicants. Those who reside together in communities, termed Muths, are most respectable; many of these Muths have assignments of lands, which are cultivated by the younger members of the community. They frequently act as bankers and money-lenders, also become security for the Chiefs and others. Some of these Muths are still held in great respect by the Hindoos, especially by the Koolees, and formerly the Koolees refrained from plundering within the precincts of the Muths; but the feeling is passing away, and I have occasionally had to call on the Mahunth* to afford restitution for robberies committed within the limits. Solitary Gossaens, &c., who reside on the outskirts of villages, are seldom of good reputation, and are known to connive at robberies. The head of the Muth is termed Mahunth, and all below him are termed Chela, or disciples. Many of the disciples contract marriages, and are then expected to live outside the Muth: they receive proselytes, and occasionally purchase children to bring up in the tenets of their order; they are composed of many castes, but none lower than Koolees are received.

Koolees.—The Koolee population of these districts is large, and their possessions comprise one-sixth of the Pahlunpoor districts. They all claim Rajpoot origin, and assert that they lost caste by intermarrying with Bheel women many centuries ago. In support of their assertion of their Rajpoot descent, the different classes of Koolees are known by the patronymics of the Rajpoot tribe to which they formerly belonged.

* Chief of the Muth.

They are divided into the following classes, viz :—

- | | |
|---------------------|-----------------------------|
| 1, Rathore Koolee. | 4, Songhurra Chowan Koolee. |
| 2, Wagghela Koolee. | 5, Dabee Koolee. |
| 3, Solunkhi Koolee. | 6, Mukwana Koolee. |

They are all landed proprietors, and have enjoyed free of tax, from immemorial times, the produce of their lands, paying no dues even to their Chiefs, to whom they are all related. They have established rights over villages within their neighbourhood, termed Geeras, Vol, Ruckopa, Lagut, &c., all a species of black mail, founded in violence, and given by the weaker villages to purchase the forbearance of their more powerful neighbours. They are all addicted to marauding, and in former days the Chiefs openly countenanced predatory excursions, receiving shares in the stolen property. A great alteration has taken place in their habits since the establishment of the British power in Guzerat, and although petty robberies are still very common, plundering in gangs, headed by the Chiefs or their Bhayad (brethren), is entirely put a stop to.

Bheels.—The Bheel population is regarded by the Koolees as greatly inferior to themselves. Like the Koolees, they cultivate land free of any duty; but there are no Chiefs amongst them. They occasionally reside in hamlets by themselves; they are incorrigible thieves, but seldom associate with the Koolees in their robbing excursions. The Bheels are few in comparison with the Koolees.

The remaining divisions of the caste are as follows :—

Sootar carpenter	Lohar smith	Sonar goldsmith	Kunsara coppersmith	Koombhar potter	Ghanchee oilman	Durjee tailor	Dubgur
Ghanja barber	Mochee shoemaker	Khutree and Chumpa dyers		Malee gardener	Jagrec prostitute	Kulal liquor-seller
Dhobee washerman	Rabaree herdsman	Waghree snarers of game		Rawulia donkey-keeper	Lohana traders and camel-keepers
Bujjania basket-makers	Dhers preparers of leather and foot-mats of coarse cloths				Bhooces bearers and fishermen
Orh well-diggers	Kapree, Kamrea, Dakotra, and Tooree wandering beggars

The following trades are followed by Mussulmans :—

Chowara plasterer	Sulat cutters of stones	Khuradhee turners in wood and ivory			Pinjara cleaners of cotton
Taece fabricators of cloth	Kusaece butcher	Dhobee washerman	Hujjam barber	Dhool Dhoya gold and silver refiners
Moosla potters, brick-makers, &c.	Koombhar	Bhar Bonja vegetable sellers	Dullugurra workers in wool	Fakeers, &c. wandering mendicants.

nistration are settled by the Kamdar in charge of the district, assisted by the head Patel of the village, an appeal being open to the Dewan's Court of Civil Justice in Pahlunpoor, to which court the case is referred in the event of the Kamdar being unable to settle it. Pecuniary claims must be referred to this court, a fee of 10 per cent. being charged. All caste disputes of a civil nature are referred to be settled by Punchayet, according to the customs of the caste; in aggravated cases the offender is fined in addition to the decision of the caste.

Cases against morality, namely intriguing with and carrying off the wives of others (if the parties belong to the same caste, and the woman is unwilling to return, or the husband to receive back his wife) are disposed of by making the offender refund the expenses of the marriage to the injured husband; a fine being also levied by the Durbar. Common cases of intriguing are disposed of by fines; but when the case is an aggravated one, and the parties are of different castes, imprisonment, in addition to a fine, is frequently awarded.

Criminal Jurisdiction.—Trivial cases of assault, abuse, and robbery are settled by the Kamdar of the district, and head Patel of the village, by fine and imprisonment, compensation to the injured party invariably forming part of the punishment; every case so disposed of being duly reported to the Hoozoor. Serious cases are referred to the Dewan's Court of Criminal Justice at Pahlunpoor, and are disposed of by that court; but all punishments of a serious nature are submitted to the Political Superintendent, for his sanction.

Rs. 40 per mensem, entertained; but the school is very poorly attended, the scholars seldom exceeding twenty, and with few exceptions the inhabitants of Pahlunpoor show no inclination to avail themselves of this opportunity to acquire a knowledge of the English language.

The Durbar takes no interest whatever in promoting any educational measures. It is willing enough to admit the advantages derivable from education, but even so small an outlay as the sum abovementioned is most reluctantly bestowed, and if left to itself the Durbar would withdraw its support altogether from the English school.

The Bramins, Banyans, and others, to whatever castes they may belong, occupied in their secular and religious affairs, all to a certain extent educate their children; the teachers employed are generally either Bramin or of the Banyan priest class; the amount of instruction given is very limited. The teachers receive pay at the rate of one rupee per annum from each scholar, and in about four years it is expected by the parents that their children will have learnt to read and write, and have acquired some knowledge of arithmetic. The boys then, if intended for trade, are usually apprenticed out to the principal men of their trade, and in about two years they become tolerably proficient in keeping accounts, and with the principles of the trade they intend to follow. The same system is pursued with those who desire to enter the public service as Mehtas, &c., and many of these youths attend the Political Superintendent's Kutcheree for the purpose of acquiring a knowledge of the routine of business, to enable them to fill subordinate situations.

With the above exception, I regret to say that the mass of the population is without education. Even amongst the Rajpoot Thakoors but few are able to sign their names, and none feel ashamed of their ignorance, or show any anxiety to have their children better educated; their days are mostly spent in idleness and dissipation, which soon unfit them from taking any active share in the management of their Estates. The natural result is, that every thing is left in the hands of the Banyan Karbarees, who cannot but regard with satisfaction a system which makes them paramount, and places the whole produce of the Estate in their hands. From the Thakoor nothing is to be expected, and the Karbarees know their own personal interests too well to advocate the progress of education and enlightenment of the Native mind.

The Mussulman Chiefs are much more intelligent than the Hindoos of the same rank; they are mostly able to read and write Guzerathee with tolerable facility, and, as far as my experience goes, they appear in consequence to be less under the influence of their Karbarees.

There are about twenty-six schools in the Pahlunpoor districts, in which about 473 youths receive instruction.

Progress of Vaccination. XVII. A vaccinator was appointed in 1849. The following are the results :—

Vaccinated in the last six months of 1850	1,595
Ditto in 1851	3,220
Ditto in 1852	2,879
Ditto in 1853	2,748
Ditto from 1st January to 31st May 1854.....	1,263

I am happy in being able to state, that the feeling in the Pahlunpoor districts in favour of vaccination is increasing. The vaccinator reports very favourably of the conduct of the inhabitants, and of the little difficulty now experienced in inducing the Ryuts to allow their children to be vaccinated.

Tuppodun.	Bhat.	Charun.
Naroda (originally of Rajpoot origin, who have lost caste by inter-marrying with women of a lower class; they form the principal portion of the cultivating classes of these districts).

A good deal of cotton is grown. In the third or saline soil, Ghussaea (or self-produced salt) is found in large quantities; its sale, however, is prohibited, the Chief having entered into an agreement to that effect with the Government, receiving compensation for his transit dues.

REPORT

SHOWING THE NUMBER OF FORTIFIED PLACES WITHIN THE DISTRICTS UNDER THE PAHLUNPOOR SUPERIN-
TENDENCY; WHETHER SITUATED ON HILLS OR PLAINS, OR BUILT OF KUTCHA OR PUCKA MATERIALS, THEIR DISTANCES, AND DIRECTION FROM PAHLUNPOOR

PREPARED IN THE YEAR 1844,

BY

THE LATE MAJOR LEWIS BROWN.

POLITICAL SUPERINTENDENT OF PAHLUNPOOR

Submitted to Government on the 5th November 1844

FORTIFIED PLACES WITHIN THE LIMITS OF T PAHLUNPOOR POLITICAL SUPERINTENDENCY.

The districts under the Pahlunpoor Political Superintendency are :—

Pahlunpoor.	Thurad.
Radhunpoor.	Chorwar.
Danta.	Charchut.
Wao.	Kankruj.
Bhabhur.	Sooegaum.
Warye.	Deodur.
Terwara.

Their whole extent is about ninety miles north and south, and ninety miles east and west. They are bounded on the north by Mount Aboo and the Sachore district, Marwar and Jhinjoowara and Puttun south, Danta east, and the Rann west. They are in the shape of a leg of mutton, Jhinjoowara being the knuckle.

Within these districts there are neither forts on hills nor forts on plains; but there are several walled towns, although most of them are now in a most dilapidated state. The following are those only that are from their state and condition worthy of notice:—

Pahlunpoor.—A large walled town, with flanking bastions, about two and a half miles in circumference. Walls about twelve feet high, loopholed, with narrow ramparts all round, built of pukka bricks and choonam. Bastions the same height as walls, with large gaping embrasures, would make it an easy matter to escalade them. Seven gateways; five in good order, two broken down. Artillery would be required to blow open the gateways, but I consider the town might easily be taken by escalade, unless it was defended by a very brave and numerous garrison. There are no ditches round it, except here and there a dry one, nearly filled up with earth and rubbish. The town is in a hollow, and completely commanded from hills, not five hundred yards from the walls, on its north-eastern side. The walls and bastions are in good order all round the town, and close to the walls are large gardens and thick groves of mango trees. An attacking force should take ground near the village of Suderpore, one mile behind the hill east-north-east from the town, where there is plenty of water, and where no gun from the town could reach it.

Radhunpoor.—A large walled town, with bastions, sixty miles south-west from Pahlunpoor. The walls are built partly of kutchra and partly of pukka bricks; they are in a most dilapidated state, being in many places broken down and merely filled up with thorns, &c. The gateways are also in a similar condition. The former are about fifteen feet high and loopholed. No ditch. On the eastern side is the dwelling of the Chief; a large oblong court, with buildings inside, surrounded by high and very strong walls, partly of stone and partly of pukka brick. This court forms one side of the town, to which it is joined, and would require artillery. But the rest of the town, unless the enemy had time to repair it, (and it would take some three months to do so) might easily be escaladed in its present condition; but if put in thorough repair, it would require artillery to take it. The town is not commanded by any hills, the country around being a complete flat plain.

Summee.—A large town in the Radhunpoor district, twenty miles south-east from that town. I never examined this place minutely, merely taking a casual view of it as I passed through it en route. It is walled all round; but the walls, with exception of the eastern sides, are in a dilapidated state. On the eastern side is a strong court, built of stone and pukka brick; it is joined to and indeed forms part of the town. Similar to the Chief's dwelling at Radhunpoor, this part would require artillery. There is no ditch. The walls are loopholed. The gateways appeared rather strong. The town is in no way commanded by hills, the country around being a complete flat.

Deesa, within two miles of the Camp, was formerly considered a strong place by the natives, and was constantly defended and besieged before the British Government held sway here. It is now completely dilapidated, and would require no artillery.

Dunneyra, a walled town, thirty miles north of Deesa, was also a place of some consequence in former days, having stood many a siege; but is now completely dilapidated. In its present state it would require no artillery, and take a long time to put into a condition to do so.

There are no other places in these districts worth mentioning. Some thirty years ago, the chief Thakoors of Wao, Thurad, Turwara, Warye, Umrappoor (Warye district), Thurrâ (Kankruj district), Soegaum, and Deodûr were walled all round, to protect them from the Khosecas and other plunderers; but the walls are now all completely destroyed, and in their present condition could not stand against a company of infantry. I need not, therefore, say no artillery would be required. Although there are no forts in these districts, there is very strong ground north and east of Pahlunpoor, and within ten, twenty, and thirty miles of it, running along the foot of Mount Aboo, and from thence down east towards the Mahee Kanta. It was in these directions all Bharwuttias and other desperate characters, in former days, always took refuge, when they wished to oppose the Pahlunpoor Government, in preference to the walled towns.

Dated 9th October 1843.

SIR,—I have the honour to transmit, for the information of Government, copies of a communication, and accompaniment, from Major Brown, dated the 28th ultimo, No. 367, and of my reply of this date.

Baroda Residency, 9th October 1843.

From Major L. BROWN, Political Superintendent, Pahlunpoor,

To W. S. BOYD, Esq., Political Commissioner in Guzerat, Baroda.

Dated 28th September 1843.

SIR,—I have the honour to report to you, for the information of the Honorable the Governor in Council, that two most extraordinary cases of Suttee have lately occurred in the Chorar and Warye districts under this Agency. It is the first case that has occurred since I have been in charge; indeed, I am informed, for some years back.

2. In the village of Patunka, Chorar district, female Phoorce committed Suttee, in the month of July last, on the death of her son Ajib Kulla, of the same place, with her own free will and consent.

3. On receiving this information, I immediately called on the Chorar Jhareeja Chiefs, Kullian Sing and Nathajee, for an explanation, and also directed the attendance of the relations of the deceased at Pahlunpoor. The latter only arrived here three or four days ago, when I immediately commenced an examination, the proceedings of which are enclosed. From these you will perceive that the female was determined on the act, against the wishes and persuasions of all her friends and relations; and from what I have learnt from the latter, I am of opinion that, had she been prevented, she would have killed herself in some other way. Her relations expressed to me the greatest sorrow at the act.

4. The Jhareeja Chiefs, in reply to my call for an explanation, say—"We have made every attempt to put a stop to the practice of Sûttee, knowing it is against the orders of the British Government; but our subjects will not obey us in this matter, and always reply—'bring our relation to life again and then we will not commit Sûttee.'" These Jhareeja Chiefs are the most respectable and more looked up to by their subjects than any of the petty Chiefs under my charge, and it is much to be regretted that their influence does not extend to the being able to put a stop to this horrid practice. I have again addressed them on the subject, strongly urging on them the necessity of making every endeavour to put an entire stop to it.

5. The next case occurred in the village of Phoolpurra, Warye district. A Koonbee, named Mullah Pobe, committed Sûttee, in the month of July last, on the death of his grandson, Jeyrah, of the same place, with his own free will and consent.

6. As in the former case, I immediately directed the attendance of the relations, and examined them, as shown in the accompanying proceedings, by which you will observe that the individual was determined on the act, contrary to the wishes and persuasions of his relations and all present; and, as in the former case, I am of opinion, from what the relations told me, that the deceased would have afterwards made away with himself, had he been forcibly prevented committing Sûttee.

7. The Chief of Warye, Jutt Shedad Khan, is a very different character from the Jhareeja Chiefs; in fact he is a perfect imbecile, and has little or no authority over his subjects: I have therefore small hope of his being able to put a stop to the practice. However I have strongly addressed him on the subject.

I have, &c.

Examination of the Relations and Friends of female Phooree, who committed Sûttee on the death of her Son, Ayer Kulla, at the Village of Patunka, Chorar District, in the month of July 1843.

1ST EVIDENCE.—Doodah, of Patunka, son of deceased female Phooree, mother of Ayer Kulla.

Ques.—Were you present when your mother committed Sûttee on the death of your brother; and if so, did you try to prevent her?

Ans.—Yes, I was present and did all I could to prevent her. For three days before my brother's death, when he was not expected to live, my mother declared her determination to die with him. For those three days I tried all I could to dissuade her, without effect. She would not listen to me or anybody else.

Ques.—Were others present; and if so, did they also try and dissuade her?

Ans.—Yes, there were forty or fifty persons also present, and they all tried all they could to dissuade her, but she would not listen to them.

Ques.—Did your mother mount the pile herself, or was she assisted on to it?

Ans.—She did so herself; nobody assisted her.

2ND EVIDENCE.—Hujjoo Ayer, of Patunka, being examined, gives exactly similar evidence to the above.

3RD EVIDENCE.—Vurma Koolee, of Patunka, being examined, also gives exactly similar evidence to Doodah, the son of the Sutteeah.

Examined before me,

(Signed) L. Brown, Political Superintendent.

Pahlunpoor Agency, 25th September 1843.

Examination of the Relations and Friends of the Koonbee, Mullah Pobe, who committed Suttee in the Village of Phoolpurra, Warye Talooka, in the month of July 1843, on the death of his Grandson, Jeyrah, of the same place.

1ST EVIDENCE.—Jugmall, the son of Koonbee Pobe, and father of the deceased grandson Jeyrah.

Ques.—Were you present when your father Mullah Pobe committed Suttee; and if so, did you make every attempt to prevent him?

Ans.—Yes, I was present, and did all I could to prevent him. I told him that although he had lost a grandson, yet that I would be a son to him and protect him through life; but he would not attend to me, but said—“if you prevent me committing Suttee now, I will kill myself in some other way.”

Ques.—Who else were present?

Ans.—All the village were present.

Ques.—Did any of those present urge your father on to the act, or did they do all they could to prevent him?

Ans.—Nobody urged him on; all present did all they could to try and prevent him.

2ND EVIDENCE.—Sugram, of Phoolpurra, is examined, and gives exactly the same evidence as the first evidence.

3RD EVIDENCE.—Dulla, of Phoolpurra, is also examined, and gives similar evidence exactly to the first witness.

Dated 9th October 1843.

SIR,—With reference to your letter of the 28th ultimo, forwarding examinations of the relations of two persons who lately committed Suttee in the Chorar and Warye Talookas, I have the honour to inform you, that these appear to be cases of suicide and not Suttee, though effected in an unusual manner; and request that you will make it generally known throughout your districts, that all persons aiding and abetting on similar occasions, will assuredly render themselves liable to punishment, and it should be the duty of the Chiefs to see that such acts are not perpetrated for the future in their districts, and that if they occur again, the severe displeasure of Government will overtake them.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

From J. P. WILLOUGHBY, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay,
To W. S. BOYD, Esq., Pol. Commr. for Guzerat and Resident at Baroda.

Dated 3rd November 1843.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated the 9th ultimo, forwarding a communication from the Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor, reporting the occurrence of two cases of Suttee in that territory; and to inform you that, in the opinion of the Honorable the Governor in Council, it appears scarcely possible that these Suttees could have taken place without the connivance and assistance of some of the friends of the deceased individuals.

2. His Highness the Gaekwar and the principal Chiefs in the Rewa Kanta have, within the last four years, prohibited, under severe penalties, the practice of Suttee within their respective territories; and a similar prohibition having been promulgated by the British Government in the Mahee Kanta, Government cannot, with any consistency, permit the anomaly of this rite being practised with impunity in the Pahlunpoor State, while its practice is prohibited in the whole of the adjoining territories.

3. From the circumstances stated by Major Brown, it is evident that unless Government adopt measures to put an effectual stop to the further practice of Suttee in the Pahlunpoor State, the inhabitants themselves will not adopt any means to prevent the recurrence of acts like those now brought to notice; and the Governor in Council therefore directs, that you will instruct that officer immediately to issue a Proclamation in the Pahlunpoor districts, similar to the one recently issued in the Mahee Kanta.

To E. H. TOWNSEND, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay.

Dated 26th June 1845.

SIR,—It is with regret I have the honour to transmit, for the information of Government, copy of a communication from the Political Superintendent Pahlunpoor, dated the 19th instant, reporting the death by Suttee of a female named Dewbhæe, on the 15th March last, at the village of Modotra, Talooka Chorar, under Pahlunpoor, and suggesting that the village of Modotra should be fined Rs. 300 for conniving in the sacrifice.

2. The late Mr. Boyd, in his letter alluded to, dated the 9th October 1843, directed that it should be made generally known throughout the province of Pahlunpoor, that all persons aiding and abetting in such acts would render themselves amenable to punishment, and that it was the duty of the Chiefs to see that sacrifices of this kind were not permitted in their districts; and Major Brown observes that those instructions were duly made known to the people.

3. The penalty suggested to be imposed on Modotra would, I should suppose, have a good effect in checking Suttee.

Baroda Residency, 26th June 1845.

From the POLITICAL SUPERINTENDENT, PAHLUNPOOR,

To the FIRST ASSISTANT POLITICAL COMMISSIONER IN CHARGE, BARODA.

Dated 19th June 1845.

SIR,—I do myself the honour to forward, for the information of the Honorable the Governor in Council, should you think it necessary, an inquiry I made into the death of a Rajpootnee by name Dewbhaee, who destroyed herself by Suttee, on the 15th of March last, at the village of Modotra, Chorar Talooka, under this Agency.

2. There is no doubt, I think, that the woman committed the act voluntarily, and entirely of her own free will; indeed, I am of opinion, that had she been forcibly prevented, she would have destroyed herself in some other way: in fact the case appears to me more one of suicide than Suttee. But still I consider the village, both its authorities and its Ayers or Ryuts, very much to blame in not making greater endeavours to dissuade her, and are therefore deserving of some punishment. Should this opinion meet your approval and that of Government, I would beg to recommend that the village be fined the sum of 300 Rupees.

3. There seems to be no blame to be attached to the Chiefs of the Talooka, who were absent at the time.

4. With reference to the late Mr. Boyd's letter of the 9th October 1843, regarding a former Suttee or suicide, I beg to observe that the instructions therein contained have been fully made known to all those whom it concerned.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Inquiry into the death of female Dewbhaee, wife of Ayer Doongra deceased, of the Village of Modotra, Chorar Talooka, who committed Suttee on the 15th March 1845.

SUBSTANCE OF THE DIFFERENT REPORTS FROM THE GOVERNMENT KAR-KOON AND DIFFERENT EVIDENCES.

1. The Méhta reports, on the 16th March, that two Ayers, by name Megga and Umra, came and reported that the deceased Dewbhaee had seduced all the villagers of Modotra, and was preparing to commit Suttee; that the villagers were trying to persuade her against it, but she would not listen to them, nor would she eat; that he (the Méhta) then sent five Sowars to prevent the Suttee; that on their doing so, the deceased threatened to commit suicide if hindered.

2. The Méhta again reports, on the 17th March, that the Suttee had taken place in defiance of the warning of the Sowars; that the Ayers of the village had assisted and collected the wood. He sends four Ayers belonging to the village for an inquiry.

3. Luxumonrow Bhargeer states he was sent by the Méhta, with four other Sowars, to stop the Suttee, but that the deceased would not mind him; he did not go to the spot where the Suttee took place, but remained in the village.

4. Lewba Bhargeer, who was with the above Luxumonrow, gives a similar statement.

5. Kotaree Dosa, a servant of the Santulpoor Chief, states that on the day the Suttee took place, he went to Modotra to collect taxes; that he tried all he could to prevent the Suttee, urging the Ayers of the village to stop it, but that they replied that the woman was determined on it, and that they were afraid to prevent her, for fear of being cursed by her. He knows not who collected the wood. None of the Sowars sent by the Melhta were present at the Suttee, or any of the Ayers (men), but only the women.

6. Rao Aomah Bojah, Karbaree of Thakoor Tuckramjee, of the Modotra village, states that he did all he could to prevent the Suttee taking place, but that deceased was determined on it; that she did it entirely from her own free will and pleasure; that all the village were concerned in it, but that only women and children were present on the spot where it took place.

7. Statement of the Patel, Ayers, and others of the village.—When deceased wished to commit Suttee of her own free will, the Sircar's Sowars tried to prevent her; they also warned us not to afford any assistance, on which account we did not go near the spot, and she sacrificed herself voluntarily. In future we will not permit Suttee, even if we should be cursed for it.

8. Statement of Rao Mahmeer and Jhareeja Wunajee, Karbarees of the Chief, Kullian Sing.—We are asked why we did not prevent this Suttee in our Talooka, of which our Chief, Kullian Sing, is head? We reply, that our Chief was at the time at Bhooj; had he been here, then it would have been prevented whether the Ayers chose to attend to us or not.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

FROM E. H. TOWNSEND, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay,

TO Major L. BROWN, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor.

Dated 28th July 1845.

SIR,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated 9th ultimo, to the address of Mr. Ogilvy, then in charge of the Baroda Residency, reporting the occurrence of a Suttee, on the 15th March last, at the village of Modotra, of the Chorar Talooka, under the Pahlunpoor Agency.

2. In reply, I am desired to observe that this occurrence is much to be regretted, and although it appears to have been perfectly voluntary, still the Honorable the Governor in Council is of opinion that some of the villagers must have aided in its performance.

3. The Governor in Council directs that, as recommended by you, a fine of three hundred (300) Rupees be imposed on the village of Modotra, for their disobedience to the Proclamation against Suttee which was promulgated by order of Government throughout the Pahlunpoor territory in November 1843.

From A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay,
To Major L. BROWN, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor.

Dated 21st February 1848.

SIR,—I am directed by the Honorable the Governor in Council to transmit to you, for promulgation in the districts under your charge, one hundred and fifty copies of a Proclamation in the English and Guzerathee languages, prohibiting the practice of Suttee within the Pahlunpoor territory.

PROCLAMATION.

To all Chiefs, Zumindars, Talookdars, and Inhabitants, &c.. It is well known to all, high and low, that throughout British India the rite of Suttee, as a sinful and an unjustifiable taking of life, has been, through the interposition of the British Government, totally abolished by Proclamation since 1829-30; and further, that in 1840, His Highness the Gaekwar, in the most meritorious manner, took this good work into his consideration, and abolished this improper rite throughout his dominions. In this manner has the abolition of Suttee been extended throughout British India, the Gaekwar's territories, and the Rewa and Mahee Kanta Sunsthauns, whose Chiefs, in the most praiseworthy manner, unanimously followed the enlightened example of His Highness Syajee Rao.

Now, in a like manner, it is the positive intention of the British Government to prohibit Suttee in Pahlunpoor, Radhunpoor, Thurad including Morwara, Wao, Soeegaum, Charchut, Terwara, Deodur, Bhabhur, Joonawas and Nuwawas, Waree, Chorar, Thurra, and the district of Kankruj; in short, in every Estate which is under the superintendence of the Political Superintendent at Pahlunpoor, and hereby every one is apprized of the same, nor may any one after this plead ignorance of this prohibition. Therefore, strictly obeying this injunction, let every one use his utmost endeavours that Suttee be abolished throughout his respective bounds or jurisdiction, and every means taken to prevent it if attempted; and be it understood, that any person, high or low, disobeying this order by not preventing the rite, or by assisting in it, shall be considered as guilty, in the eyes of Government, of the gravest offence, and will render himself liable to the severest punishment.

By order of the Honorable the Governor in Council.

Extract from a letter-addressed by Government to the Political Commissioner for Guzerat, dated the 16th, June 1843, No. 1377.

Para. 5. From the Census submitted by Major Brown, it appears that the total population of Pahlunpoor and its dependencies amounted, on the 27th of March last, to 1,32,784, which shows an increase over the year 1841-42 of 2,255 individuals. The Governor in Council, however, perceives that the female adults exceed the male adults by about ten per cent., while the male children exceed by upwards of forty per cent. the number of female children.

6. It is stated by Major Brown that this disparity may probably be accounted for by early marriages, in consequence of which many of the female children are included under the head of adults. Making, however, an allowance on this account, an actual difference of thirty per cent. still remains in favour of the males.

7. I am desired to request that you will call the particular attention of Major Brown to this point, with instructions to state whether he has any reason to believe that female infanticide is practised in the Pahlunpoor territory, and to exert every endeavour to obtain correct information on the subject, reporting the result for the information of Government.

Extract, paras. 19 and 20, from a Despatch from the Honorable the Court of Directors, dated the 5th February 1845, No. 5.

Para. 19. We observe that Major Brown's inquiries have led him to the conclusion that infanticide is not practised in Pahlunpoor, or the other petty States under his superintendence, and that the excess of males over females in the Returns of children is attributable to other causes, viz. 1st, early marriages, in consequence of which many of the female children are included under the head of adults; 2nd, the number of female children who are married to foreigners; and 3rd, the excess of male over female births.

20. The last of the three assigned causes is somewhat suspicious, and we fear that infanticide is a more probable hypothesis. The other two causes undoubtedly require attention, and Major Brown's explanation should be communicated to the Political Agents in Katteewar, the Mahee and Rewa Kantas, and Kutch, being calculated to put those officers on their guard as to the conclusions to be drawn from the disproportion of the sexes of children, and to suggest their framing the Returns, as far as possible, in a mode calculated to show the degree of influence really exercised by the causes enumerated by Major Brown.

From E. H. TOWNSEND, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay,
To Major L. BROWN, Political Superintendent, Pahlunpoor.

Dated 18th August 1845.

SIR,—With reference to your letter to the late Political Commissioner for Guzerat and Resident at Baroda, dated the 22nd July 1843, No. 262, I am directed by the Honorable the Governor in Council to transmit to you an extract, paras. 19 and 20, from a despatch from the Honorable the Court of Directors, dated the 5th February, No. 5 of 1845, and to request that you will be pleased to continue to exercise the greatest vigilance for the purpose of ascertaining if female infanticide is really practised in Pahlunpoor or the other petty States under your superintendence, and in detecting and bringing to punishment any persons who may be guilty of this inhuman crime.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Bombay Castle, 18th August 1845.

From Major L. BROWN, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor,
To E. H. TOWNSEND, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay.

Dated 8th September 1845.

SIR,—I do myself the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, Political Department, No. 3932, of the 18th ultimo, forwarding extract from a despatch from the Honorable Court, dated 5th February last, No. 5, regarding the excess of males over females in the Population Returns of this State, and requesting me to exercise the utmost vigilance for the purpose of ascertaining if female infanticide is really practised in the Pahlunpoor or other petty States under this Agency.

2. In reply, I beg to state that the utmost vigilance has been, and shall continue to be exercised by me, in detecting and bringing to punishment any persons guilty of this offence; but I am still most decidedly of opinion, as before expressed by me in the letter alluded to by you, that this inhuman crime is not, nor has it been for years, practised in either Pahlunpoor or any of the districts under this Agency. Certainly not, if I may believe all reports, ever since they have been under the protection of the British Government; this is, I beg respectfully to add, my firm belief, and since I have been here (1841) no mention of it whatever has been made.

3. The difference between male and female children, I cannot as yet further account for, than what I have already shown in my former letter; but I am now having a most strict and searching inquiry made, before I send in the next Census, which will be in a couple of months, when I will again report on the subject.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) L. BROWN, Political Superintendent.

Pahlunpoor Agency, 8th September 1845.

P.S.—I should add, that the Pahlunpoor authorities still insist that the male births exceed the female; this is the opinion of the Chief himself.

To Captain J. D. LECKIE, Offg. Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor.

Dated 1st June 1846.

SIR,—I am directed by the Honorable the Governor in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated the 15th April last, submitting a Census, for the year 1845, of the Jhareeja population in the Pahlunpoor State, together with a Statistical Return, for the year 1845-46, of the Pahlunpoor State and its dependencies.

2. In connection with this Census, I am directed to request that you will report to Government the result of the inquiry which, in his letter dated the 8th September last, Major Brown stated he was making, with the view of ascertaining the causes which produced the great disparity of numbers between the two sexes in the Pahlunpoor districts.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) A. MALET, Secretary to Government.

Bombay Castle, 1st June 1846.

From Captain J. D. LECKIE, Offg. Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor,
To A. MALET, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay.

Dated 8th June 1846.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 1st instant, and beg to state, for the information of the Honorable the Governor in Council, that I have made every inquiry with regard to the males predominating over the females in the Pahlunpoor State, and cannot discover that female infanticide is in practice. Jhareeja females are given in marriage to Mussulmans in these districts, and it is not likely a Mahomedan would permit the destruction of his offspring.

2. I am induced to believe, from the opinion I have elicited from persons who are conversant with the population of His Excellency the Dewan's districts, that the disparity arises from the number of mendicants, Fakeers, Byragees, and others who have settled themselves here from all parts of India, and are too poor to marry. The Rabarees are another class who abound in these districts, and have not the means of supporting wives; and frequently those who are married leave their families in other Purgunas, and live with their flocks for months together in villages under Pahlunpoor. Sindees are numerous, and have seldom or ever any families with them. The Banyans also, from being unable from the want of money to contract marriages, add to the number of males, and reside in Pahlunpoor and its villages to get a livelihood. The remarks made by Major Brown, in his letter of the 8th September last, "that the Pahlunpoor authorities insist that the male births exceed the female; this is the opinion of the Chief himself" can be accounted for from the age of the husbands being greater than that of the wives, and it is allowed by English writers in such cases that the males preponderate. I will cause a strict watch and inquiry to be made, and endeavour, if possible, to account for the disparity of numbers between the two sexes in the Pahlunpoor districts.

I have the honour to be, &c.

From A. MALET, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay,

To Captain J. D. LECKIE, Offg. Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor.

Dated 7th July 1846.

SIR,—I am directed by the Honorable the Governor in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 8th ultimo, and to inform you that the explanation therein submitted, of the causes which produce the great disparity of numbers between the two sexes in the Pahlunpoor districts, is not very satisfactory.

2. The Governor in Council requests, that in submitting a Census for this year of the Jhareeja population in the Pahlunpoor State, you will be pleased to state the result of the precautions and inquiries reported in the last para. of your letter under acknowledgment.

I have the honour to be, &c.

SIR,—I have the honour to transmit, for the information of the Honorable the Governor in Council, the Census of the Jhareeja population of three Talookas under this Superintendency for the year 1846. No instance of infanticide has come to my knowledge since the last Return was forwarded.

SIR,—I am directed by the Honorable the Governor in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated the 26th April last, submitting a Census, for the year 1846, of the Jhareeja population of the three Talookas mentioned in the margin, together with a Comparative Statement of the male and female Jhareeja population during the year 1846.

2. In reply, I am directed to inform you that it is very satisfactory to Government to find, that although the disproportion between the number of male and female children, from the age of three years downwards, is still considerable, it is less than during the year 1845, and especially as regards children of one year old and under.

3. It is also satisfactory to learn, that the principal preponderance of the number of males over females occurs in the more advanced ages.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

From Captain J. D. LECKIE, Offg. Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor,
To A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay.

Dated 1st October 1847.

SIR,—In handing up the Statistical Return of the Pahlunpoor districts and dependencies for Sumvut 1903, A. D. 1846-47, I have the honour to state that His Excellency the Dewan has caused every precaution and inquiry into the deaths of females in his State, and I am again assured that female infanticide is not practised. I can confidently corroborate this assertion, as I should have heard of any casualty. The number of females less than males, by the accompanying Return, is 10,680, or 391 of the former more than shown by the last Census, or 7 and 670 decl. per cent. less than males.

The deaths and births are as follows:—

Boys	611	Girls	467

3. It appears that the proportion of females to males, under the Pahlunpoor Superintendency, during the years 1845, 1846, and 1847, was in the ratio of eighty-six, eighty-three, and eighty-five per cent. respectively on the total Jhareeja population.

4. The Governor in Council observes with gratification, that the disproportion between male and female children from the age of ten downwards continues progressively to diminish, the average per-centage to the males having been in 1845 about fifty-three, in 1846 sixty-four, and in 1847 seventy-four per cent.

Extract, para. 4, from a letter from the Honorable the Court of Directors, dated 4th December, No. 32 of 1850.

4. The Census* of the Jhareeja population bears obvious marks of incorrectness. In each of the four years from 1846 to 1849, the number of males and females above the age of twenty, as stated in the Returns, is nearly equal, while below that age, the males are much more numerous than the females. This difference would only be explicable, consistently with correctness in the Returns, by supposing that female infanticide had been introduced into these districts within the last twenty years. You will draw Captain Leckie's attention to these remarks.

The above results, although a careful examination shows errors, do not call for any particular remark; but I am desirous to refer you to my letter No. 2533, dated the 13th ultimo, requesting, with reference to the considerable preponderance in numbers which the total male population of the Pahlunpoor districts has over the female, that you "will not relax in your vigilance or efforts to detect any cases of infanticide that may occur."

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

From A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay,
To Major J. R. KELLY, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor,

Dated 12th March 1852.

SIR,—I am directed by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated the 4th ultimo, forwarding Returns of the Jhareeja population of the Pahlunpoor districts for the year 1851.

2. In reply, I am desired to request your attention to my letter No. 317, dated the 23d January 1851, to the address of Captain Leckie, enclosing an extract (paragraph 4) from a despatch from the Honorable the Court of Directors, No. 32, dated the 4th of the preceding month, containing observations on the Returns of the Jhareeja population of the Pahlunpoor districts for the years 1846-49.

3. Captain Leckie furnished no explanation, but in his letter No. 26, dated the 3rd February 1851, stated that the remarks of the Honorable the Court of Directors would "be duly attended to," while with the same communication he submitted the Census for 1850, to which the remarks equally applied.

4. I am instructed to state, that to the Census now submitted by you for 1851, the same remarks are also applicable, and to request that you will submit any explanation in your power.

I have the honour to be, &c.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

From Major J. R. KELLY, Political Superintendent, Pahlunpoor,
To A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay.

Dated 10th May 1852.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter under date 12th March 1852, calling my attention to extract para. 4th from a despatch from the Honorable the Court of Directors, containing observations on the Jhareeja population of the districts under this Superintendency for the years 1846 to 1849, forwarded in your letter of 23rd January 1851 to the address of Captain Leckie, and requesting me to submit any explanation in my power to account for the difference in number existing between the male and female sexes under twenty years of age.

2. Immediately on receipt of this communication, the Melhta in charge of the Jhareeja districts was directed to visit each village in succession, and to ascertain by the minutest inquiries from the villagers the cause of this disparity, as also whether there was any reason to suppose that it was owing to the secret observance of the unnatural custom of female infanticide.

3. The Returns submitted in consequence of these orders by the Mehta, confirm the correctness of the former documents forwarded to Government. The following is an abstract showing the number of males and females under twenty years of age:—

	Males.	Females.
Santulpoor Districts	166	105
Charchut ditto	111	81
Thurad ditto	0	7
	277	193
Excess over the females.....	84

4. The Mehta continues to report his assurance, founded on inquiries made from the villagers, that the deficiency in the number of the female sex is owing to natural causes, and not to the practice of infanticide.

5. On referring, however, to the records in this office, I find that Returns of the Jhareeja population were first called for in 1845, but that the Chiefs of this tribe have not been required to enter into engagements for the suppression of this crime, nor required to report the birth or death of any female child, as is the case, I believe, in other districts where preventive measures have been adopted to suppress the crime.

6. I have, therefore, considered it necessary to issue a Proclamation to the Jhareeja Chiefs, pointing out the difference in number which continues to exist between the male and female sexes under twenty years of age, as also the remarks of the Honorable the Court of Directors on this subject, and have required them to report to the Mehta the birth and death of every female infant at the time of occurrence; no child to be buried without in the first case the body being inspected by three or four of the respectable inhabitants of the village (not Jhareejas); the illness, too, of the child to be made known, and the cause of it, if possible, ascertained. Any deviation from the above to subject the offending party to such punishment as Government may be pleased to award.

7. Should it meet with the approbation of the Right Honorable the Governor in Council, the Jhareeja Chiefs might be called upon to enter into engagements to put a stop to the practice if it exists, and give security to that effect, as has been done, I believe, in the Mahee Kanta with reference to the Rathore tribe. I humbly conceive that some arrangement of this sort is necessary, and should I be permitted to carry out the suggestion, I trust that the next Return will be more satisfactory; at all events, I hope to be able to account more satisfactorily, than at present, for the death of every female infant.

I have the honour to be, &c.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

From H. E. GOLDSMID, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay,

To Major J. R. KEILY, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor.

Dated 12th June 1852.

SIR,—I am directed by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 10th ultimo, submitting your explanation regarding the difference in number which exists between the male and female sexes of the Jhareeja population of the Pahlunpoor districts.

2. In reply, I am desired to inform you, that His Lordship in Council hardly considers new engagements to be necessary, and is not, therefore, of opinion that any should be insisted upon, if likely to excite dissatisfaction amongst those already repudiating the accusation and admitting the culpability of the practice of infanticide.

3. The Right Honorable the Governor in Council requests that you will submit to Government a copy and translation of the Proclamation you have already issued.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) H. E. GOLDSMID, Secretary to Government.

Bombay Castle, 12th June 1852.

From Major J. R. KEILY, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor,

To H. E. GOLDSMID, Esq., Secretary to Government, Bombay.

Dated 30th June 1852.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter under date 12th instant, in reply to my explanation regarding the difference in number existing between the male and female sexes of the Jhareeja population of the Pahlunpoor districts, and informing me that His Lordship in Council hardly considered new engagements to be necessary, and was not, therefore, of opinion that any should be insisted upon, if likely to excite dissatisfaction amongst those already repudiating the accusation and admitting the culpability of the practice of infanticide.

2. In reply, I beg to state, for the information of His Lordship in Council, that as the petty Jhareeja Chiefs under this Superintendency are not bound by any engagements whatever to suppress the crime of infanticide, I thought, that in bringing the remarks of the Honorable the Court of Directors to their notice, founded on the marked difference existing between the sexes, as shown in the various Returns of population submitted since A. D. 1846, that it would be a good opportunity to require of them to agree to certain precautionary measures to render the crime more difficult of commission, and convince all that we were as much interested in suppressing the practice here as in other districts; for I could not but admit, that unbound by any engagement, and with the present amount of supervision, which required the Mehta to visit each village once a year for the purpose of taking a Census of the population, and being dependent on the assertion of the parents that whatever deaths may have occurred during the year were owing to natural causes, it was in the power of any one so disposed, to be guilty of the crime without much fear of detection. It is true that I have, and do receive constant assurances, that the practice has been discontinued; still the difference is suspicious, and I was anxious to ascertain, by a more vigilant supervision, whether there were really grounds for mistrusting the accuracy of the Returns submitted.

3. The Jhareejas under this Superintendency are so well aware of the engagements that have been entered into by their brethren in Kattywar, and of the precautions taken by Government to ensure the due fulfilment of their engagements, and the detection of those who may infringe them, that I think I may venture to say, that no dissatisfaction would be evinced by them in subscribing to what others have previously subscribed to. The Mehta to whom the Proclamation was sent was directed to proceed into the Jhareeja districts, visit each village in succession, and make the contents known to all, and then affix the Proclamation in some public place in the village. Being engaged in other business, he has not been able to carry out my orders yet, and I have in consequence directed him to postpone doing so until the pleasure of Government is made known to me on the subject.

4. As desired in the 3rd para., I beg to submit a copy and translation of the Proclamation in question.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) J. R. KELLY, Political Superintendent.

Pahlunpoor Agency Office, 30th June 1852.

Substance of a Proclamation issued to the Jhareeja Chiefs residing under this Superintendency, as follows:—

The Honorable the Court of Directors having remarked that since A. D. 1846 the females of the Jhareeja population, under twenty years of age, continue to be much less in number than those of the male sex under that age, and requiring information on this subject ; it is therefore written, that in future, every Jhareeja to whom a daughter may be born, shall immediately report the same to the Mehta in charge of the Talooka, and, in the same way, a report is to be made in case of death. In the event of any female infant dying, then four men of respectability of different castes, but not Jhareejas, shall be convened, and the corpse submitted to them for inspection, for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of its death, and their opinion is to be submitted to the Mehta. After this, the body is to be buried or disposed of, and not before. Should the daughter of any Jhareeja Rajpoot of tender years fall sick, information must be immediately given to the Karkoon in charge of the districts, and the cause of her sickness be clearly stated. Whoever shall act differently to these instructions, will subject himself to such punishment as Government may think proper to award ; therefore, bear this in mind. Should the Mehta be absent elsewhere, then the Jumadar in charge of the Thana stationed in the district is to be reported to. Should any one, after this Proclamation, without reporting to the Mehta, or submitting the body of his child to a Panchayet, dispose of the body by burying or burning it (according to its age), then such persons will be considered to have infringed these instructions. Therefore let every one make himself acquainted with the meaning of this Proclamation, and act up to it accordingly. Should any one hereafter plead ignorance as an excuse for infringing the instructions contained in this Proclamation, such excuse will not be received.

Dated 8th June 1852.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

From A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay,

To Major J. R. KELLY, Political Superintendent, Pahlunpoor.

Dated 29th July 1852.

SIR,—I am directed by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated the 30th ultimo, forwarding copy and translation of a Proclamation which you contemplated issuing, on the subject of the excess in the number of the male over the female sex of the Jhareeja population of the Pahlunpoor districts.

2. In reply, I am desired to observe, that the orders for holding inquests on the death of female infants, and transmission of reports on every occurrence of sickness, contained in your Proclamation, must entail on the parents considerable trouble and annoyance, while it is considered by Government of much importance that the preservation of daughters should involve as little burden as may be indispensable.

3. I am instructed to request that you will ascertain what arrangements are adopted in Kattewar, and, assimilating the proposed Proclamation as far as local circumstances may allow to that in that province, you will submit it to Government for approval.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) A. MALET, Chief Secretary.

Bombay Castle, 29th July 1852.

Extract, para. 5, from a Despatch from the Honorable the Court of Directors, dated 12th January, No. 2 of 1853.

Para. 5. We are of opinion with Major Keily, that the precautionary measures against infanticide which are adopted in Kattewar, should be extended to the Pahlunpoor districts. In particular it is essential that the births and deaths of female children should be reported.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

From A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay,

To Major J. R. KEILY, Political Superintendent, Pahlunpoor.

Dated 23rd March 1853.

SIR,—With reference to my letter dated the 29th July last, on the subject of female infanticide, I am directed by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council to transmit, for your information, an extract, para. 5, from a despatch from the Honorable the Court of Directors, No. 2, dated the 12th January last, and to inform you that Government awaits your further communication consequent on the instructions contained in my letter above quoted.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) A. MALET, Chief Secretary.

Bombay Castle, 23rd March 1853.

From Major J. R. KEILY, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor,

To A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay.

Dated 11th April 1853.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward, for the information of Government, Census of the Jhareeja population under this Superintendency for the year 1852.

2. When contrasted with the last Returns, the present show an increase of
- 7 from fifty-five to seventy-two years' age died of fever.
 - 1 of forty-eight years' age died of fever and inflammation of the stomach.
 - 2 of forty-seven years' age died of fever.
 - 1 of forty years' age died of ditto.
 - 1 of forty years' age died of fever and inflammation of the stomach, eight days after the birth of a daughter.
 - 1 of twenty-five years' age died of fever.
 - 1 of twenty-four years' age died of ditto.
 - 1 of seventeen years' age died of fever and inflammation of the stomach.
 - 7 from one to seven years' age died of small-pox.
 - 3 of two years' age died of fever.
 - 1 of one year of age died of fever and cough.
 - 1 of ten months died of fever and convulsions.
 - *1 of two months died of fever.
 - *1 of fifteen days died from the want of nourishment; her mother died eight days after her birth.

five in the number of females under twenty years of age. Twenty-nine females of all ages have died during 1852, but of this number two* only were of an age to excite suspicion. The number of females less than males under twenty years of age is eighty-two.

3. In compliance with the instructions of Government conveyed in your letter under date 29th July last, a reference was made to Lieutenant Colonel Lang, who forwarded a summary of the steps now taken by the Censors employed in the Province of Kattcewar, also copy of the Nowanuggur engagement (in Guzerathee) for the suppression of the crime in that Talooka. From the above I find that the custom in Kattcewar is, that on a child falling seriously ill, information thereof is given to the Chief of the Talooka, who immediately communicates the intelligence to the Infanticide Karkoon, but in the event of the child's death occurring prior to his arrival, the child to be shown to the Patel of the village, and the cause of death ascertained. In the event of the child dying after the arrival of the Mehta, a Punchayet is to be assembled by him for the same purpose. It will be seen from this, that the degree of interference I purposed exercising, was not more than was and is now exercised in Kattcewar, and if this amount of supervision was not offensive to the Chiefs there, there could of course be no reason why the petty Chiefs of Santulpoor should object to the arrangement, or feel aggrieved by the establishment of the same system.

4. None of the Chiefs here have entered into any engagements with Government for the suppression of the crime, and I imagine that neither Nathajee nor Shamut, Sing, the two principal Chiefs of Santulpoor, would hesitate to sign the same engagement as the Chief of Nowanuggur has. Should Government approve of this, I would respectfully crave permission to postpone taking any measures until the commencement of the next cold weather, when I shall be in the neighbourhood of Santulpoor, and where I can assemble the heads of the tribes, and endeavour, with their consent, to adopt similar measures with those in force in Kattcewar for the suppression of the crime. Both Chiefs were absent in Kutch when I was in the neighbourhood this season, and I was in consequence unable to effect any arrangement.

5. No case of infanticide has been brought to my notice by the Mehta in charge, who is well acquainted with the sentiments of Government, and would not fail to communicate any event of this sort.

I have the honour to be, &c.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

From A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay,
To Major J. R. KEILY, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor.

Dated 5th October 1853.

SIR,—I am directed by the Right Honorable the Governor in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 11th April last.

2. In reply, I am desired, with reference to the 4th para. of your letter, to request that you will endeavour, during the next cold season, to induce the Jhareeja Chiefs under your Superintendency to agree to the introduction of the same measures for the suppression of infanticide as those which are in force in Katteewar.

3. The intimation contained in the last para. of your letter, that there is reason to believe no case of infanticide occurred in the Pahlunpoor districts during the year of report, is satisfactory.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) A. MALET, Chief Secretary.

Bombay Castle, 5th October 1853.

From Major J. R. KEILY, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor,
To A. MALET, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government, Bombay.

Dated 19th November 1853.

SIR,—With reference to the 2nd para. of your letter of the 5th October 1853, I have the honour to forward translation of an engagement entered into by the Jhareeja* Chiefs of Santulpoor and Charchut, together with all their Bhayad and dependants, engaging to preserve the lives of their daughters, and binding themselves in perpetuity to abide by the conditions specified in the writing, which are in accordance with the measures in force in Katteewar for the suppression of the crime of infanticide.

2. For the due fulfilment of the terms of the above engagement, security has been given by all. But in justice to the Jhareejas, I am bound to say, that they were most willing to enter into the engagement, freely admitting the sinfulness of the act, and the good motives of Government in requiring this engagement to preserve the lives of their daughters.

3. As there is no fund here to assist indigent Jhareejas in marrying their daughters as in Katteewar, no allusion has been made to any pecuniary aid from Government.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) J. R. KEILY, Political Superintendent.

Pahlunpoor Agency Office, 19th November 1853.

* Jhareeja Shamut Sing wulud Kalian Sing and Nathajee wulud Hajajee, of Santulpoor, and Amur Sing wulud Purtap Sing and Akheraj wulud Dewajee, of Charchut, &c.

Agreement entered into by the Jhareeja Chiefs of Santulpoor and Charchut with Major J. R. Keily, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor, for the Suppression of the crime of Female Infanticide within their Districts, dated the 18th June and 15th August 1853.

The Honorable the Court of Directors having remarked that since the year 1846 the females of the Jhareeja tribe, under twenty years of age, continue to be much less in number than those of the male sex under that age, and required information on this subject; and we having been requested by you to enter into an engagement for the purpose of saving our female children, similar to the engagement entered into by the Jam of Nowanuggur on the 25th of February 1812;

We write to say, that we well know that it is a great sin to kill an infant, and that the murderer thereof will go to the deepest hell, for so it is written in the Shastre: this we know. Moreover, the Sirkar has sent us books on the subject of infanticide, in which there are many quotations from the Shastre to the effect that there is no sin equal to killing a female infant. No one therefore should be guilty of this sin, but should save his infant daughter: this is true religion, and we therefore willingly agree to the following arrangements for the preservation of our infant daughters, which are to be binding on us for ever, viz:—

I. Every Jhareeja living in Santulpoor and Charchut, to whom a daughter may be born, shall immediately give information to the Karkoon belonging to his district, who will enter the child in the list kept by him, from which the yearly returns are framed. The number of births which have occurred during the year, will, with ease, be ascertained by these means.

II. In the event of any Jhareeja's daughter dying, information is to be given to the Karkoon in charge of the district, who will make every proper inquiry into the cause of the death, and enter the cause of death in the list.

III. Should any female infant of tender age die, its body is to be shown to four of the most respectable people of the village, but of different castes, and the cause of death must be ascertained, as far as possible, and stated in the proceedings of the inquest, which must be sent to the Government Karkoon, after which the body may be buried: without this precaution the body must not be buried. No Jhareejas are to be allowed to assemble on the Puchayet.

IV. Should any Jhareeja's infant daughter fall ill, information must be given to the Government District Karkoon, and the cause of the illness mentioned to the Karkoon, that it may be noted by him in his list.

V. In the event of any female infant dying, and being buried without acquainting the Government Karkoon and assembling a Panchayet to ascertain the cause of its death, then the party guilty of the infringement of this agreement shall submit to such punishment as Government may decide.

VI. As above written, we will abide, and make no dispute hereon. Whoever shall offend and plead ignorance of the above engagement as an excuse to escape punishment, he must not be listened to, as all have been made well acquainted with the contents of this engagement.

VII. In the event of the Government Karkoon being engaged in other business elsewhere, and unable to attend, then the chief of the horse-men on the Thana will be consulted, and every thing arranged through him.

In this way we have, of our free will and consent, and being in possession of all our faculties, entered into the above engagement, and we have given, as perpetual security for the due fulfilment of the above writing, the undermentioned, viz. Barote Puttoo Sut Meta wulud Jussa, Swamees Ruttonghur Sut Manghur, Tejghur wulud Mullooghur, Gudvee Hurreesing Sut Amra wulud Veerma, Bramins Pachun wulud Kana, Gora wulud Kana, Gudvee Poónja Sut, Rabeer wulud Davaet, Bramin Nanjee wulud Mugga, Purmar Runmull wulud Kesserjee, Waghela Veerum wulud Mala, Bramin Gungaram wulud Roora, Bramin Bhakur wulud Jewna, Bramin Jetta wulud Dana, Swamee Gungaghur wulud Manghur, and Kapree Samut wulud Ramsing.

NAMES OF JHAREEJAS AND VILLAGES.

NAMES OF SECURITY.

We do hereby state that we shall abide, and cause the Jhareejas to abide also, by the above writing, and we ourselves shall be answerable for it.

R. Keily, Political Superintendent of Pahlunpoor, for the Suppression of the crime of Female Infanticide within their Districts, dated 3rd May 1854, and 11th February 1855.

The Honorable the Court of Directors having remarked that since the year 1846 the females of the Jhareeja tribe, under twenty years of age, continue to be much less in number than those of the male sex under that age, and required information on this subject; and we, having been requested by you to enter into an engagement for the purpose of saving our female children, similar to the engagement entered into by the Jam of Nowanuggur on the 25th of February 1812;

V. In the event of any female infant dying, and being buried without acquainting the Government Karkoon and assembling a Punchayet to ascertain the cause of its death, then the party guilty of the infringement of this agreement shall submit to such punishment as Government may decide.
